LOSS REPORTED TO BE COMPLETELY COVERED

Asbury Park, N. J., July 30.— (P)—A trio of bandits armed with shotguns robbed two bank messengers of $108,000 cash in front of the post office today and in view of scores of spectators.

They escaped through the congested traffic of this shore resort's main thoroughfare in a dark Oldsmobile sedan bearing Pennsylvania license plates. The holdup took place at 9:50 a. m. (EST).

James Forsythe, vice president and cashier of the Asbury Park National Bank and Trust Company, estimated the loss and said it was covered by insurance. The money was consigned from the bank to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and was being taken to the post office.

Forsythe said the messengers,
Clarence Barton and Joseph Sturm, were accosted by the trio as they stepped from the car in front of the post office building on Bangs avenue, Sturm was armed.

The robbers wore dark glasses.
A few minutes earlier two messengers for the Seacoast Trust Company arrived at the postoffice and were inside depositing $52,- 00 as the robbery was staged.

Forsythe said that during the holdup a fourth man remained in the car with the engine running.
One of the bandits seized Sturm's revolver from the others took the money from Barton.

Some of the several score persons who witnessed the robbery old police that a stocky woman was also seated in the front seat of the car.

City police were handicapped by lack of municipal cars, which are under repair. Several gave pursuit in private machines.

Alfred Bennett, 20, said he caught the registration number as the machine sped away.

Duncannon, Pa., July 30.—(P)—
The decapitated body of J. Howard Lusk, Sr., 48, superintendent of the Duncannon Electric Light plant, was found today along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Deputy Coroner John J. Witt, of Dauphin county, issued a certificate of suicide. He said Lusk apparently sat beside the tracks and placed his head on a rail as a harrisburg-bound passenger train approached.

Ottawa, July 30.—(P)—Considering the possibility of creating a Canadian army of 1,000,000, War Services Minister James G. Gardner told Commons today every unmarried man in the Dominion between the ages of 21 and 45 might be compelled to undergo 30 days military training.

"There is no reason," he said, why Canada should not train an army of 1,000,000 men under this system and still operate her industry and primary production to meet demands upon it."

National registration is to be conducted August 19-21. Canada's 3 electoral districts will be the basis for the registration.

"It is possible," he said, "that requirements of the Department of National Defense will be satisfied by the calling up of single men from 21 to 35, and it may not have gone beyond that the first year."

Munitions Minister C. D. Howe told the House that Canadian aircraft factories were expected to produce warplanes at the rate of 60 per month by 1941, and tanks at the rate of 30 monthly as soon as plant equipment is completed.

Outlined plans for rifle and artillery plants, and for a naval artillery factory costing $10,000,000 which he said would be the largest and most modern in the British empire.

SUSQUEHANNA CLAIMS TWO CCC ENROLLEES

New Cumberland, July 30.—(P)—
The bodies of two young Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees who were to have boarded a train for a camp in Virginia today, lay in a morgue, while a third recuperated from his narrow escape from their fate—drowning.

Taking a forbidden swim in the Susquehanna river yesterday, John Kenneth Harland, 19, son of Mrs.
Mary Harland of Dunlo, and John Pilot, 17, son of Mrs. Victoria Pilot of Johnstown, slipped under the surface before the eyes of spectators on shore. Benedict Tarbay of Johnstown reached shore, and was treated at the camp infirmary.
Major W. M. Flinn, camp commander, said their swim violated camp rules. He reported they persuaded a boat owner to row them to an island, and were swimming back.

"War-time Jitters" Held Partly to Blame For Increase in Nation's Traffic Deaths

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—"Wartime jitters"—the war's psychological effects on American motoslists—were held partly responsible today for a sharp increase in the nation's traffic deaths.

Reporting an eight per cent increase in traffic deaths for the first half of 1940 compared with the same period last year, the National Safety Council attributed the rise to greater travel and "wartime jitters."

There were 14,740 persons killed in motor accidents during the first six months of 1940, or 1,040 more than in the like 1939 period.
The June death toll of 2,520 was 15 per cent greater than that

Conviction United States Will Not be Drawn Into Pressure on Part of

TALKS OF PROSPERITY

BY DAVID J. WILKIE

Detroit, July 30.—(P)—Henry Ford reached his 77th birthday anniversary today, at peace with himself and with the world, in excellent physical condition and more optimistic than ever about the future.

"I was never more confident,"
he said in an interview, "than I am today that the future will bring happiness, contentment and prosperity to our people."

The noted industrialist whose philosophy of life centers largely upon the idea that "there never has been produced too much of any useful commodity" planned no formal celebration of his birthday.
Excepting for a visit to the house in which he was born—a few minutes drive from his offices in suburban Dearborn—he planned to follow his usual routine while completing arrangements to leave for a summer vacation.

"When you get to be 77 years old," Ford said today, "you're more or less used to birthdays, the years themselves don't count anyway;
it's what you have done with them that adds up to success or failure."

Ford repeated his conviction that the United States would not be drawn into the war, "despite tremendous pressure on the part of certain selfish interests that would like to see all our enormous resources devoted to the production of the machinery of destruction."

"The United States won't get into this war," he went on, "because our people know from experience that only a limited few with financial investments involved ever profit from war."

The extent of the prosperity he sees ahead, Ford said, "depends of course, upon our youth and what we teach them. We must teach them to work and to be self-reliant. The sooner we all learn that "life is earnest and real," and that there is no short cut to economic or social security, the sooner will we achieve the purpose for which we are put on this earth."

Ford, who has held a life-long hatred for war, said he was convinced the present conflict would

By The Associated Press
The British House of Commons held its sixth secret session of the war today as Nazi airmen carried on the prelude of bombing to the long-expected invasion.

Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, disclosed that Britain was sending an agent to Spain this week-end to confer with Spanish officials on Spain's oil requirements, a move apparently designed to make certain no oil supplies reaching Spain are transhipped to Germany.

The minister denied reports of an extension of the British blockade to certain neutral countries, but explained that Britain now must control all shipping crossing the Atlantic.

He also offered this statement:
"Our friends will be further encouraged and our enemies discouraged by some ingenious provisions which the minister of shipping will immediately announce."

In the House of Lords, Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared Japan's allegations of British espionage in the Far East were baseless.

As the Germans carried on their raids over England, the Nazi high command disputed British claims of 17 to 1 RAF successes in yesterday's air battle of Dover.

Tokyo, July 30.—(P)—The Jap-in which 13 Britons previously had

LEWIS TO ADDRESS U. A. W. CONVENTION

St. Louis, July 30.—(P)—CIO Chief John L. Lewis, who has expressed opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt, speaks today at the convention of the United Automobile Workers of America, whose executive board has endorsed the president for re-election.

This will be Lewis' first speech since Mr. Roosevelt's renomination. In his last address, Lewis told the Townsend convention here July 2 that the president would be "unanimously defeated."

Without referring directly to the third term issue, R. J. Thomas, head of the auto workers, made a point of denying in a speech yesterday what he said were reports of discord between the union and Lewis. Thomas eulogized Lewis as "the greatest labor leader the world has ever known."

Commons Takes Time Out to Enjoy Laugh

London, July 30.—(P)—The House of Commons laughed at a quip by Prime Minister Churchill when he moved that foreign affairs debate be held in secret today.

The prime minister recalled that a week ago the house indicated its desire for a secret session "so that members of all parties could say what they felt about foreign countries without any danger of adding to the number of those countries with which we are at present at war."

BY JOHN L. BECKLEY
Associated Press Statistician
New York, July 30.—(P)—Profits for the second quarter of 1940 were 37 per cent greater than a year ago.

The gain was made in the face of increased taxes for defense purposes, and despite the fact that most leading corporations charged added taxes for the entire first half against second quarter earnings.

The legislation was not passed until the second quarter, but made the increased rates retroactive to cover the entire calendar year.
New excess profits legislation now planned in Washington may cut further into 1940 earnings.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IS OUT FOR WILKIE

Washington, July 30.—(P)—The Republican national committee made public today a letter from John E. Jameson, a former New Hampshire Democratic chairman, pledging support to Wendell L.
Wilkie for president.

The letter, addressed to Robert B. Burroughs, New Hampshire Republican committeeman, said that Jameson had noted "with growing apprehension the continued encroachment of the government on the rights of the states and individuals, which culminated in that shameful exhibition of political tyranny manifested in the Chicago

Bucs' Manager and Players Are Fined ager Frankie Frisch, two of his Pittsburgh Pirates players and Catcher Babe Phelps of the Total of $200 today by President Ford Frick of the National League for yesterday's hostilities at Ebbets

Frisch, who was tossed out of a game for the sixth time this season, was fined $100.
Frick explained, the penalty was "for dressing and coming into the stands and resuming the argument with the umpires in public at the close of the game as they were leaving the field."

Phelps and Buc shortstop Arky Vaughan received a $25 penalty each for their first fight in the ninth inning, for which both were thumped to the showers.
Second-Sacker Frank Gustine of the Pirates drew a $50 fine for "misconduct on the field."

ARGENTINE RESERVES DECISION

Eleventh - Hour Action of Delegates Somewhat Dampens Enthusiasm of Some Representatives at Havana Who Had Predicted That There Would Be No Chink Left in the Armor of Continental Solidarity

SOME BELIEVE MOVE TO BE ONLY ACADEMIC

By The Associated Press
Havana, July 30.—An argentine reservation on the all-important question of foreign possessions in the new world clouded today the solidarity of the 21 American republics as their foreign ministers reached the end of their conference on hemisphere economic and political defense.

The unanimity rule of the conference, a Pan American tradition, technically was upheld as the delegates agreed one after another on the many defense matters, but Argentina at the last moment of last night's secret plenary session reserved the right of its government to pass finally on the merits of the Act of Havana.

This act declared the deep concern of all American republics in the status of European possessions in this hemisphere and authorized American nations singly and jointly to assume temporary control of European colonies if deemed necessary to protect the continent.

Hence Argentina's 11th-hour reservation somewhat dampened the enthusiasm of some delegates who had predicted there would be no chink left in the armor of continental solidarity.

Some delegates, however, said they believed the Argentine action was as the Argentines themselves expressed it, "academic."
They gave the opinion that the conference had taken another step towards its objectives—to establish firmly a three-point basis of inter-American defense and collaboration.

ELWOOD SPEECH IS ABOUT READY

BY WILLIAM B. ARDERY

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 30.— (P)—Wendell L. Wilkie's acceptance address probably will include an interpretation of the Republican platform and an attack on what he terms "corrupt and nauseating political machines."

The Republican nominee sought today to complete a rough draft of the address to be given August 17 at Elwood, Ind.

Wilkie told his press conference yesterday that he expected to assume "the privilege" of interpreting the Republican platform.

In renewing his attack on political machines, which he previously said would figure in his acceptance address, Wilkie declared he could not understand why any open-minded Democrat should vote for President Roosevelt in preference to him.

"The only Democrats who won't vote for me are those bound by regard for parties or controlled by the corrupt and nauseating party machines that dominate some major cities," the nominee said.

Wilkie said the "city machines" were supported by federal funds.

Pittsburgh, July 30.—(P)— Detectives reported today the discovery of several pieces of men's clothing, shoes and a Bible in a box car in the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie's Stowe Township yards where three victims of a torso slay-ing were found last May 3.

The box car was among 37 shipped to the yards from Youngstown, O. A Youngstown woman's name was en-scribed on the Bible, which contained several lines that were underlined in red ink.
Detective Frank Ritz said a safety razor, several blades and "something that looked like blood" also were found on straw on the floor of the box car where workmen discovered the clothing.

RATE REDUCTION BY PENN'A EDISON CO.

Harrisburg, July 30.—(P)— Pennsylvania Edison Company, of Allentown, has agreed to a $229,700 annual rate reduction, the Public Utility Commission announced today.

New rates will become effective September 1 for the company's 66,000 customers in Allentown, and 58 boroughs and 112 townships in Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Clearfield, Cumberland, Franklin, Hunting-

The utility also agreed to make a further reduction of approxi-

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—The North American granary promises to be overflowing soon, with merchandisers facing the task of finding sufficient storage space for huge surpluses of bread grain and feed.

In sharp contrast, Europe's grain crops are sub-normal, the war-torn continent faces an acute shortage in animal feed, and some localities may feel the pinch of inadequate food supplies unless available supplies are proportionately distributed.

COMPROMISE PLANS OFFERED COMMITTEE

BULLETIN
Washington, July 30.—(P)—
The senate military committee delayed final action on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill today, and ordered hearings immediately on a measure to authorize President Roosevelt to train the National Guard and the officers reserve corps.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said he thought the senate should take up the guard-reserve officers bill before acting on the general conscription measure. Although it was by means certain that this would be done, the committee's action in delaying final approval of the one and ordering hearings on the other opened the way for that procedure.

Washington, July 30.—(P)— Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.) said today he had gained the "definite impression" in conversations with President Roosevelt that the president favored enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill in its present form.

Sheppard, just back from a three-day tour of Norfolk, Va., defense works, a trip which he defined with Mr. Roosevelt, said he had discussed the bill at length with Mr. Roosevelt. The chairman of the senate military committee added that the president's comments were entirely favorable to it.

The measure, receiving final consideration from Sheppard's committee today, called for registration of all men between 18 and 64 years, with local boards to select those between 21 and 45 who would be given a year's military training.

Sheppard's statement was the first indication of Mr. Roosevelt's view on the bill, although he previously had said that some form of conscription might be necessary in order to provide sufficient personnel for an enlarged national defense machine.

A movement to modify the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill compromise proposals offered by

DUKE TO SAIL NEXT THURSDAY

Lisbon, July 30.—(P)—The Duke of Windsor plans to sail for the United States with his American niece duchess next Thursday on the American export liner on route to his post as governor of the Bah-

Announcement of the duke's in-night by the British embassy. The duke was expected to divulge his plans at a press conference this af-

The embassy did not identify the ship on which the duke and duchess will sail but the export liner Excalibur is scheduled to leave Lisbon for New York on the date mentioned. Some of the duke's luggage reached New York yesterday on the British liner Brittannic.

On the same vessel with the Windsors will be three United States diplomats—John Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium; William Phillips, ambassador to Italy; and George Gordon, minister to the Netherlands. Phillips is returning home on a short leave and the other two because their diplomatic missions have been terminated by German conquests.

NEW JERSEY BANK GUARDS ROBBED OF $108,000

YEGGS USE SHOTGUNS IN HOLDUP

Trio of Bandits Stage Darling Job in Front of Post Office at Asbury Park in View of Scores of Spectators, and Escape Through Traffic of Shore Resort's Main Thoroughfare in Sedan Bearing Penn'a License Plates

LOSS REPORTED TO BE COMPLETELY COVERED

Asbury Park, N. J., July 30.—(P)—A trio of bandits armed with shotguns robbed two bank messengers of $108,000 cash in front of the post office today and in view of scores of spectators.

They escaped through the congested traffic of this shore resort's main thoroughfare in a dark Oldsmobile sedan bearing Pennsylvania license plates. The holdup took place at 9:50 a. m. (EST).

James Forsythe, vice president and cashier of the Asbury Park National Bank and Trust Company, estimated the loss and said it was covered by insurance. The money was consigned from the bank to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and was being taken to the post office.

Forsythe said the messengers, Clarence Barton and Joseph Sturm, were accosted by the trio as they stepped from their car in front of the post office building on Bangs avenue. Sturm was armed.

The robbers wore dark glasses. A few minutes earlier two messengers for the Seacoast Trust Company arrived at the postoffice and were inside depositing $52,000 as the robbery was staged.

Forsythe said that during the holdup a fourth man remained in the car with the engine running.

One of the bandits seized Sturm's revolver as the others took the money from Barton.

Some of the several score persons who witnessed the robbery told police that a stocky woman was also seated in the front seat of the car.

City police were handicapped by lack of municipal cars, which are under repair. Several gave pursuit in private machines.

Alfred Bennett, 20, said he caught the registration number as the machine sped.

DECAPITATED MAN IS REPORTED A SUICIDE

Duncannon, Pa., July 30.—(P)—The decapitated body of J. Howard Lusk, Sr., 48, superintendent of the Duncannon Electric Light plant, was found today along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Deputy Coroner John J. Witt, of Dauphin county, issued a certificate of suicide. He said Lusk apparently sat beside the tracks and placed his head on a rail as a Harrisburg-bound passenger train approached.

CANADA PLANS MILLION ARMY

Ottawa, July 30.—(P)—Considering the possibility of creating a Canadian army of 1,000,000, War Services Minister James G. Gardiner told Commons today every untrained man in the Dominion between the ages of 21 and 45 might be compelled to undergo 30 days military training.

"There is no reason," he said, "why Canada should not train an army of 1,000,000 men under this system and still operate her industry and primary production to meet demands upon it."

National registration is to be conducted August 19-21. Canada's 13 electoral districts will be the basis for the registration.

"It is possible," he said, "that the National Defense will be satisfied by the calling up of single men from 21 to 35, and it may not have to go beyond that the first year."

Munitions Minister C. D. Howe told the House that Canadian airplane factories were expected to produce warplanes at the rate of 60 per month by 1941, and tanks at the rate of 30 monthly as soon as plant equipment is completed.

He outlined plans for rifle and artillery plants, and for a naval armory factory costing $10,000,000, which he said would be the largest and most modern in the British Empire.

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor
Detroit, July 30.—(P)—Henry Ford reached his 77th birthday anniversary today, at peace with himself and with the world, in excellent physical condition and more optimistic than ever about the future.

"I was never more confident," he said in an interview, "than I am today that the future will bring happiness, contentment and prosperity to our people."

The noted industrialist whose philosophy of life centers largely upon the idea that "there never has been produced too much of any useful commodity" planned no formal celebration of his birthday.

Excepting for a visit to the house in which he was born—a few minutes drive from his offices in suburban Dearborn—he planned to follow his usual routine while completing arrangements to leave for a summer vacation.

"When you get to be 77 years old," Ford said today, "you're more or less used to birthdays, the years themselves don't count anyway; it's what you have done with them that adds up to success or failure."

Ford repeated his conviction that the United States would not be drawn into the war, "despite tremendous pressure on the part of certain selfish interests that would like to see all our enormous resources devoted to the production of the machinery of destruction."

"The United States won't get into this war," he went on, "because our people know from experience that only a limited few with financial investments involved ever profit from war."

The extent of the prosperity he sees ahead, Ford said, "depends of course, upon our youth and what we teach them. We must teach them to work and to be self-reliant. The sooner we all learn that 'life is earnest and real,' and that there is no short cut to economic or social security, the sooner will we achieve the purpose for which we are put on this earth."

Ford, who has held a life-long hatred for war, said he was convinced the present conflict would vindicate his philosophy.

At the moment the chief executive informed newspaper men, he feels that the success of an attack on Washington could "feel a whole lot safer" a year from now.

SUSQUEHANNA CLAIMS TWO CCC ENROLLEES

New Cumberland, July 30.—(P)—The bodies of two young Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees who were to have boarded a train for a camp in Virginia today, lay in a morgue, while a third recuperated from his narrow escape from their fate—drowning.

Taking a forbidden swim in the Susquehanna river yesterday, John Kenneth Harland, 19, son of Mrs. Mary Harland of Dunlo, and John Pilet, 17, son of Mrs. Victoria Pilet of Johnstown, slipped under the surface before the eyes of spectators on shore. Benedict Tarbay of Johnstown reached shore, and was treated at the camp infirmary.

Major W. M. Flinn, camp commander, said their swim violated camp rules. He reported they persuaded a boat owner to row them to an island, and were swimming back.

There were 14,740 persons killed in motor accidents during the first six months of 1940, or 1,040 more than in the like 1939 period. The June death toll of 2,820 was 15 per cent greater than that

Undisclosed Number of Civilians, Among Them an Infant, Reported Killed and Buildings Damaged or Demolished as Nazi Airmen Sprinkle Their Loads Up and Down the English East Coast; "Puny" Sample of What Is to Come

17 DOWNED IN MAJOR BATTLE OVER DOVER

By The Associated Press
The British House of Commons held its sixth secret session of the war today as Nazi airmen carried on the prelude of bombing to the long-expected invasion.

High Dalton, minister of economic warfare, disclosed that Britain was sending an agent to Spain this week-end to confer with Spanish officials on Spain's oil requirements, a move apparently designed to make certain no oil supplies reaching Spain are transhipped to Germany.

The minister denied reports of an extension of the British blockade to certain neutral countries, but explained that Britain now must control all shipping crossing the Atlantic.

He also offered this statement: "Our friends will be further encouraged and our enemies discouraged by some ingenious provisions which the minister of shipping will immediately announce."

In the House of Lords, Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared Japan's allegations of British espionage in the Far East were baseless.

As the Germans carried on their raids over England, the Nazi high command disputed British claims of 17 to 1 RAF successes in yesterday's air battle of Dover.

JAPS CAMPAIGN AGAINST SPIES

Tokyo, July 30.—(P)—The Japanese army announced today that several foreigners, whose names and nationalities were not disclosed, have been arrested in Korea in an extension of Japan's campaign against alleged foreign espionage, in which 13 Britons previously had been seized in Japan proper.

A brief communique issued in Seoul, capital of Korea, Japanese colony on the Asiatic mainland, said the prisoners, charged with spying, were undergoing examination.

The Japanese campaign, which has jailed some of the most prominent British residents of Japan and led to the death of one, was discussed today by the British and United States ambassadors, Sir (Turn to Page Five)

LEWIS TO ADDRESS U. A. W. CONVENTION

St. Louis, July 30.—(P)—CIO Chief John L. Lewis, who has expressed opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt, speaks today at the convention of the United Automobile Workers of America, whose executive board has endorsed the president for re-election.

This will be Lewis' first speech since Mr. Roosevelt's renomination. In his last address, Lewis told the Townsend convention here July 2 that the president would be "ignominiously defeated."

Without referring directly to the third term issue, R. J. Thomas, head of the auto workers, made a point of denying in a speech yesterday what he said were reports of discord between the union and Lewis. Thomas eulogized Lewis as "the greatest labor leader the world has ever known."

Commons Takes Time Out to Enjoy Laugh

London, July 30.—(P)—The House of Commons laughed at a quip by Prime Minister Churchill when he moved that foreign affairs debate be held in secret today.

The prime minister recalled that a week ago the house indicated its desire for a secret session "so that members of all parties could say what they felt about foreign countries without any danger of adding to the number of those countries with which we are at present at war."

PROFIT GAINS ARE REPORTED BY 300 FIRMS

BY JOHN L. BECKLEY
Associated Press Statistician
New York, July 30.—(P)—Profits of the first 300 companies to report for the second quarter of 1940 were 37 per cent greater than a year ago.

The gain was made in the face of increased taxes for defense purposes, and despite the fact that most leading corporations charged added taxes for the entire first half against second quarter earnings.

The legislation was not passed until the second quarter, but made the increased rates retroactive to cover the entire calendar year. New excess profits legislation now planned in Washington may cut further into 1940 earnings.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IS OUT FOR WILLKIE

Washington, July 30.—(P)—The Republican national committee made public today a letter from John B. Jameson, a former New Hampshire Democratic chairman, pledging support to Wendell L. Willkie for president.

The letter, addressed to Robert B. Burroughs, New Hampshire Republican committeeman, said that Jameson had noted "with growing apprehension the continued encroachment of the government on the rights of the states and individuals, which culminated in that shameful exhibition of political tyranny manifested in the Chicago (Democratic) convention x x x."

Some delegates, however, said they believed the Argentine action was, as the Argentines themselves expressed it, "academic."

They gave the opinion that the conference had taken another step towards its objectives—to establish firmly a three-point basis of inter-American defense and collaboration.

ELWOOD SPEECH IS ABOUT READY

BY WILLIAM B. ARDERY
Colorado Springs, Colo., July 30.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie's acceptance address probably will include an interpretation of the Republican platform and an attack on what he terms "corrupt and nauseating political machines."

The Republican nominee sought today to complete a rough draft of the address to be given August 17 at Elwood, Ind.

Willkie told his press conference yesterday that he expected to assume "the privilege" of interpreting the Republican platform.

In renewing his attack on political machines, which he previously said would figure in his acceptance address, Willkie declared he could not understand why any open-minded Democrat should vote for President Roosevelt in preference to him.

"The only Democrats who won't vote for me are those bound by regard for parties or controlled by the corrupt and nauseating party machines that dominate some major cities," the nominee said.

Willkie said the "city machines" were supported by federal funds.

Bucs' Manager and Players Are Fined

New York, July 30.—(P)—Manager Frankie Frisch, two of his Pittsburgh Pirates players and Catcher Babe Phelps of the Brooklyn Dodgers were fined a total of $200 today by President Ford Frick of the National League for yesterday's hostilities at Ebbets Field.

Frisch, who was tossed out of a game for the sixth time this season, was fined $100.

Frick explained the penalty was "for dressing and coming into the stands and resuming the argument with the umpires in public at the close of the game as they were leaving the field."

Phelps and Buc shortstop Arky Vaughan received a $25 penalty each for their first-fight in the ninth inning, for which both were thumbed to the showers.

Second-setter Frank Gustine of the Pirates drew a $50 fine for "misconduct on the field."

Eleventh - Hour Action of Delegates Somewhat Dampens Enthusiasm of Some Representatives at Havana Who Had Predicted That There Would Be No Chink Left in the Armor of Continental Solidarity

Havana, July 30.—An Argentine reservation on the all-important question of foreign possessions in the new world clouded today the solidarity of the 21 American republics as their foreign ministers reached the end of their conference on hemisphere economic and political defense.

The unanimity rule of the conference, a Pan American tradition, technically was upheld as the delegates agreed one after another on the many defense matters, but Argentina at the last moment of last night's secret plenary session reserved the right of its government to pass finally on the merits of the Act of Havana.

This act declared the deep concern of all American republics in the status of European possessions in this hemisphere and authorized American nations singly and jointly to assume temporary control of European colonies if deemed necessary to protect the continent.

Hence Argentina's 11th-hour reservation somewhat dampened the enthusiasm of some delegates who had predicted there would be no chink left in the armor of continental solidarity.

Some delegates, however, said they believed the Argentine action was, as the Argentines themselves expressed it, "academic."

They gave the opinion that the conference had taken another step towards its objectives—to establish firmly a three-point basis of inter-American defense and collaboration.

RATE REDUCTION BY PENN'A EDISON CO.

Harrisburg, July 30.—(P)—Pennsylvania Edison Company, of Altoona, has agreed to a $229,700 annual rate reduction, the Public Utility Commission announced today.

New rates will become effective September 1 for the company's 66,000 customers in Altoona, and 58 boroughs and 112 townships in Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Clearfield, Cumberland, Franklin, Huntingdon, Indiana, Juniata, Mifflin and Perry counties.

The utility also agreed to make a further reduction of approximately $219,000 annually within three years from the effective date of the new rates, or prior to September 1, 1943.

Merchandisers Face Task of Finding Space To Store Surpluses of Bread Grain and Feed

BY FRANKLIN MULLIN
Chicago, July 30.—(P)—The North American granary promises to be overflowing soon, with merchandisers facing the task of finding sufficient storage space for huge surpluses of bread grain and feed.

In sharp contrast, Europe's grain crops are sub-normal, the war-torn continent faces an acute shortage in animal feed, and some localities may feel the pinch of inadequate food supplies unless available supplies are proportionately distributed.

This, grain trade experts pointed out today, offers a striking illustration of world economic maladjustment due to the war—a maladjustment likely to continue as long as hostilities or even longer if normal international trade cannot be restored.

Meanwhile, Europe, exclusive of Russia, is harvesting its first seriously deficient crop since 1930—estimated to be more than 20 per cent smaller than last year's. The total North American supply is expected to exceed 1,600,000,000 bushels, second largest in history.

Suspicious Articles Found in a Box Car

Pittsburgh, July 30.—(P)—Detectives reported today the discovery of several pieces of men's clothing, shoes and a Bible in a box car in the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie's Stowe township yards where three victims of a torso slaying were found last May 3.

The box car was among 37 shipped to the yards from Youngstown, O. A Youngstown woman's name was inscribed in the Bible, which contained several lines that were underscored in red ink.

Detective Frank Ritz said a safety razor, several blades and "something that looked like blood" also were found on straw on the floor of the box car where workmen discovered the clothing.

BUT FAINT HOPE HELD OUT FOR BREAK IN HEAT

By The Associated Press
Unrelenting heat gripped Pennsylvania and portions of the nation again today as government forecasters held out only faint hope for relief from the nearly two-week-long hot spell which has taken 765 lives including 69 Pennsylvanians.

Shooting up to 98 degrees, Monday at Harrisburg, the temperature equalled that city's record for the date, set in 1930. State-wide marks for the year toppled under the broiling sun and high humidity.

The thermometer registered 95 at Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh was only two degrees cooler until a shower dropped the reading to 80.

Swimmers seeking relief in rivers and lakes boosted the state's death toll from drowning to 35. The heat was blamed directly for 34 other fatalities.

Employers in several large cities sent workers home early and women golfers from Scranton and Hazleton postponed a match at the Scranton country club until "it cools off a bit."

"It was one of the state's coolest cities with the temperature in the 80's most of the day. An electric storm and high wind plummeted the temperature at Oil City from 93 to 73 in half an hour and the wind blew over an abandoned radio tower.

Throughout the nation 382 deaths were attributed directly to (Turn to Page Five)

DUKE TO SAIL NEXT THURSDAY

Lisbon, July 30.—(P)—The Duke of Windsor plans to sail for the United States with his American-born duchess next Thursday on an American export liner en route to his post as governor of the Bahamas.

Announcement of the duke's impending departure was made last night by the British embassy. The duke was expected to divulge his plans at a press conference this afternoon.

The embassy did not identify the ship on which the duke and duchess will sail but the export liner Excalibur is scheduled to leave Lisbon for New York on the date mentioned. Some of the duke's luggage reached New York yesterday on the British liner Britannic.

On the same vessel with the Windsors will be three United States diplomats—John Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium; William Phillips, ambassador to Italy; and George Gordon, minister to the Netherlands. Phillips is returning home on a short leave and the other two because their diplomatic missions have been terminated by German conquests.

AGITATION TO MODIFY IS GAINING

Senator Sheppard, Just Back From a Three-Day Tour of Norfolk, Va., Naval Stations, Gains "Definite Impression" That Chief Executive Desires Burke-Wadsworth Measure Adopted in Present Form in Spite of Opposition

COMPROMISE PLANS OFFERED COMMITTEE

Washington, July 30.—(P)—The senate military committee delayed final action on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill today, and ordered hearings immediately on a measure to authorize President Roosevelt to train the National Guard and the officers reserve corps.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said he thought the senate should take up the guard-reserve officers bill before acting on the general conscription measure. Although it was by means certain that this would be done, the committee's action in delaying final approval of the one and ordering hearings on the other opened the way for that procedure.

Washington, July 30.—(P)—Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.) said today he had gained the "definite impression" in conversations with President Roosevelt that the president favored enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill in its present form.

Sheppard, just back from a three-day tour of Norfolk, Va., defense works, a trip which he made with Mr. Roosevelt, said he had discussed the bill at length with Mr. Roosevelt. The chairman of the senate military committee added that the president's comments were entirely favorable to it.

The measure, receiving final consideration today, called for registration of all men between 18 and 64 years, with local boards to select those between 21 and 45 who would be given a year's military training.

Sheppard's statement was the first indication of Mr. Roosevelt's view on the bill, although he previously had said that some form of conscription might be necessary in order to provide sufficient personnel for an enlarged national defense machine.

A movement to modify the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill gained strength today through compromise proposals offered by Senator Byrnes (D-SC) and Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the house (Turn to Page Eleven)

GARLAND PHONE SERVICE TO BE PROBED BY PUC

At a hearing to be held at the court house here tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock by an examiner for the Public Utility Commission, the Bell Telephone Company will be requested to show cause why the company should not go into the territory in the vicinity of Grand Valley and Torpedo and serve customers now obtaining service from the Warren County Telephone & Telegraph Company, it was learned today.

According to information revealed today, complaints have been made concerning the service provided by the Warren County Telephone & Telegraph Company, which has about 60 customers. Investigators and engineers have been sent into the territory to check the complaints and the hearing tomorrow is the result of their findings, it was stated.

At present, the Bell Telephone Company has a working agreement with the Garland company for providing service outside that territory for those having phones owned by the Garland firm.

It is proposed, according to reports, that the Bell company take over the entire operations there.

According to H. O. McGrath, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company, his firm has no desire to take over the rural territory served by the Garland company.

Mr. McGrath says he does not know what information will be brought out at tomorrow's hearing, but that attorneys and other representatives of the Bell company will be present.

It is expected that the cost of operating in the Garland section will be one of the factors entering into the case.

AMUSEMENTS

DOUBLE FEATURE AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE WED., THURS., FRI.

"40 Little Mothers" The Story of Forty Little Mothers, heart-warming comedy starring Eddie Cantor, opens Wednesday at the Columbia Theatre. It is a new Eddie Cantor that the audience meets. The Prince of Comedy Gags emerges as a real actor. Minus his wisecracks, he plays a very human timid professor who inherits a baby after he saves its mother from suicide and incidentally annexes a lot of trouble.

Others who add to the enjoyment of the picture are Ralph Morgan, Bonita Granville, Diana Lewis, Margaret Early, Martha O'Driscoll, Charlotte Munier and Louise Seidel, not to mention Baby Quintanilla, the eight-months-old infant of the tale who is without doubt one of the most ingratiating and amusing babies ever to make an appearance before the cameras.

"Irene" Bringing its popular tunes to the speaking screen for the first time, RKO Radio's film version of "Irene," will open Wednesday at the Columbia Theatre with Anna Neagle, the famous British star, and Ray Milland sharing stellar honors, and with such favorites as Roland Young, Alan Marshall, May Robson and Billie Burke in prominent roles.

Both on Broadway and on road tours "Irene" won a lasting place with theatre-goers as one of the most entertaining and best-liked of all musical comedies, and the picture version is heralded as being even more charming.

"ALL THIS & HEAVEN, TOO"
AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE
LAST TIMES TODAY

The momentous first meeting of the screen's greatest dramatic stars, Bette Davis and Charles Boyer, takes place in "All This and Heaven, Too," Warner Bros. screen adaptation of the world-applauded novel by Rachel Field. The film has its last local showing at the Library Theatre today.

A screen match that was literally made in "Heaven," the teaming of Miss Davis and Boyer brings together two of film's greatest dramatic stars in a story which, although it is an actual record of events which took place almost a hundred years ago, might have been written just to them. So pleased was Author Rachel Field with their performances that she wrote: "I feel that the screen version is not only the book as I wrote it, but a projection of the characters themselves, heightened by the art of Miss Davis and Mr. Boyer."

"All This and Heaven, Too" is the highly dramatic story of a little French governess, seemingly destined for a life of spinsterhood, who became the storm-center of a Parisian murder scandal which shook Europe nearly a century ago, but who survived the ordeal to find peace and happiness in America.

Besides Miss Davis and Boyer, the film features a notable cast which includes Barbara O'Neil, Jeffrey Lynn, Virginia Weidler, Walter Hampden, Henry Daniell, George Coulouris and many more. Anatole Litvak directed, from the screen play by Casey Robinson, based on the novel.

Mrs. Alden MacDonald and family, who have been spending the summer in the H. P. Stone residence at 205 West Third avenue, expect to move into their own home, 309 Market street, on Thursday.

NEW MANAGEMENT

Announcement is made that Mrs. Charlotte Swanson and son, Leonard, have taken over the management of the Wolfe Grocery, 1409 Pennsylvania avenue, east, and will conduct it in the future under the name of Swanson and Son Grocery and Confectionery Store.

YOUTH IS HURT

Oscar Erwin, 18, of Canton, Ohio, who was visiting Charles Corbett, of Elgin, sustained a fractured pelvis and facial lacerations when he lost control of his motorcycle and struck a bridge near Elgin at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Mrs. Agnes Brown, of the Agnes Beauty Salon in Pennsylvania avenue, east, who recently underwent an emergency appendicitis operation at the Warren General Hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Brown, of Sheffield.

CALLED BY ILLNESS

Mrs. A. T. Slatry, Onelda avenue, returned last evening from South Bend, Ind., and her sister, Mrs. George Sheehan, of Great Neck, Long Island, arrived also, called by the serious illness of another sister, Mrs. Lillian Henry, Laurel street.

MAY LOSE ARM

Mrs. Fred Miller, of Wattsburg, R. D., may lose her right arm as a result of injuries sustained early Sunday when the car in which she was riding was sidwiped by a large truck and trailer on the Union City-Wattsburg road, causing the passenger vehicle to leave the highway and overturn.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

The American Legion Auxiliary is hoping for a ready response to its benefit for the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, the spaghetti supper to be served at the Legion Home from five until eight o'clock Thursday evening. Mrs. James V. Scalise is general chairman in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Boris Waxman is dining room supervisor.

WERE IN ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wickham, of Canisteo, N. Y., en route here yesterday to attend the funeral of Miss Jane M. Edgett, were unable to complete their journey because of an accident which occurred in or near Olean, N. Y. Details of the incident were not learned by local relatives. Mrs. Wickham is a sister of the late P. V. Edgett, of Warren.

CRITICALLY HURT

Five-year-old Barbara Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter, of Jamestown, suffered a fractured skull and broken right shoulder yesterday afternoon when she was struck by a light truck in Fairmount avenue, Jamestown. Her condition was said to be very poor at Jamestown General Hospital early today. The truck was operated by Sigmund Fischer, 27, of West Ellipton, N. Y.

INSTANTLY KILLED

Apparently bewildered as one car turned off the highway and others were approaching from the opposite direction, Lynford Bennett, 25, of Union City, was instantly killed late Saturday night when he stepped in the path of a car driven by George Franz, 22, of Corry, at a point opposite the Shade Filling Station on the Perry Highway on the western outskirts of Union City.

ON BUYING TRIP

Several buyers from the Metzger-Wright Company store are in New York on a special shopping trip this week. Those comprising the party are Miss Clara Weidert, Miss Betty Anderson, L. C. GARLAND PHONE SERVICE TO BE PROBED BY PUC

At a hearing to be held at the court house here tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock by an examiner for the Public Utility Commission, the Bell Telephone Company will be requested to show cause why the company should not go into the territory in the vicinity of Grand Valley and Torpedo and serve customers now obtaining service from the Warren County Telephone & Telegraph Company, it was learned today.

According to information revealed today, complaints have been made concerning the service provided by the Warren County Telephone & Telegraph Company, which has about 60 customers. Investigators and engineers have been sent into the territory to check the complaints and the hearing tomorrow is the result of their findings, it was stated.

At present, the Bell Telephone Company has a working agreement with the Garland company for providing service outside that territory for those having phones owned by the Garland firm.

It is proposed, according to reports, that the Bell company take over the entire operations there.

According to H. O. McGrath, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company, his firm has no desire to take over the rural territory served by the Garland company.

Mr. McGrath says he does not know what information will be brought out at tomorrow's hearing, but that attorneys and other representatives of the Bell company will be present.

It is expected that the cost of operating in the Garland section will be one of the factors entering into the case.

DOUBLE FEATURE AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE WED., THURS., FRI.

"40 Little Mothers" "The Story of Forty Little Mothers," heart-warming comedy starring Eddie Cantor, opens Wednesday at the Columbia Theatre. It is a new Eddie Cantor that the audience meets. The Prince of Comedy Gags emerges as a real actor. Minus his wisecracks, he plays a very human timid professor who inherits a baby after he saves its mother from suicide and incidentally annexes a lot of trouble.

Others who add to the enjoyment of the picture are Ralph Morgan, Bonita Granville, Diana Lewis, Margaret Early, Martha O'Driscoll, Charlotte Munier and Louise Seidel, not to mention Baby Quintanilla, the eight-months-old infant of the tale who is without doubt one of the most ingratiating and amusing babies ever to make an appearance before the cameras.

Bringing its popular tunes to the speaking screen for the first time, RKO Radio's film version of "Treasure" will open Wednesday at the Columbia Theatre with Anna Neagle, the famous British star, and Ray Milland sharing stellar honors, and with such favorites as Roland Young, Alan Marshall, May Robson and Billie Burke in prominent roles.

Both on Broadway and on road tours "Treasure" won a lasting place with theatre-goers as one of the most entertaining and best-liked of all musical comedies, and the picture version is heralded as being even more charming.

"ALL THIS AND HEAVEN, TOO" AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE LAST TIMES TODAY

The momentous first meeting of the screen's greatest dramatic stars, Bette Davis and Charles Boyer, takes place in "All This and Heaven, Too." Warner Bros. screen adaptation of the world-applauded novel by Rachel Field. The film has its last local showing at the Library Theatre today.

A screen match that was literally made in "Heaven," the teaming of Miss Davis and Boyer brings together two of filmdom's greatest dramatic stars in a story which, although it is an actual record of events which took place almost a hundred years ago, might have been written just to fit them. So pleased was Author Rachel Field with their performances that she wrote: "I feel that the screen version is not only the book as I wrote it, but a projection of the character themselves, heightened by the art of Miss Davis and Mr. Boyer."

"All This and Heaven, Too" is the highly dramatic story of a little French governess, seemingly destined for a life of spinsterhood, who became the storm-center of a Parisian murder scandal which shook Europe nearly a century ago, but who survived the ordeal to find peace and happiness in America.

PLEASANT TWP. MAN IS FOUND DEAD AT HOME

John Zimmerman, 58, well known resident of Lesser Hill, Pleasant township, was found dead in bed at his home this morning about 7:30 o'clock. According to members of the family, Mr. Zimmerman who suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in April, had been around the house last evening and seemed in good health and spirit when he retired. An attending physician who was called informed the coroner that Mr. Zimmerman probably passed away during the early hours of the morning from a heart attack.

Mr. Zimmerman was born in Berne, Switzerland, January 6, 1882. He was brought to Warren county by his parents in 1888, and has since resided in the vicinity of Glare.

He is survived by four brothers and a sister, Samuel, of Mohawk avenue, Glare, and Mrs. Zimmerman, of Glare, and Mrs. Christ Yutze, of Sheffield.

Removal was made to the Peterson funeral home where friends may call. Services will be held there Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Irving K. Dietrich, of the Emanuel Reformed church officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Zimmerman sustained a serious fracture of the right leg while skidding logs April 23rd, of this year, which resulted in an operation at the Hamot hospital some weeks ago, since which time he was believed to be making progress toward complete recovery.

STORM'S ANTICS
Towanda, July 30—(P)—The cyclonic storm that swept through nearby Leraysville blew away John Davis' garage—but a car inside suffered only a dented fender. At the home of Mrs. Frank Krause clothes were swirled from a bedroom closet through a window and were found a quarter of a mile away.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY, Kay tells all and realizes that the Colonel is now convinced of Jeff's guilt. She goes up to her room and finds Mimi there, dead. She was bad, but not through.

Chapter 34 Mimi's Story

MIMI took a cigarette from the pack I offered her, lit it and began walking aimlessly about the room, straightening a picture, brushing an invisible speck from the dresser scarf, changing the position of a chair.

"I'm nobody," she began abruptly, in the hard voice of one making an unwilling confession. "I probably don't need to tell you that—it must be obvious that I'm out of my element. No—don't interrupt. Maybe it isn't obvious. That's what you were going to say, anyway—perhaps a bit more tactfully. We'll consider it said. But that isn't really what's troubling me. I just want to give you a complete picture of my background, so you'll understand better."

She laid the smoking cigarette on the edge of the dresser and began rearranging my comb and hand mirror which I had not yet repacked. I could see her face in the big glass as she talked, taut and strained and utterly unconscious of what he was doing.

She had been born in a little town in Ohio, and her people were nobody even in that town. Her father worked by the day, her mother took in sewing. They grew before my eyes—decent, God-fearing people, with no education beyond the public schools. They had never been anywhere and never wanted to go. They named their only child Mimi and expected her to grow up and be happy in the same rut. But Mimi had other ideas.

She won a beauty contest when she was in high school. Her voice was flat as she told me about it, but a bluish sweep her tense face. The prize was a trip to New York. Mami, entrained from her home town, but Mimi stepped off the train in Grand Central Station. And Mimi stayed on in New York. A beautiful girl in a city of beautiful girls, like Mimi, with bright dreams of the future. She cashed in her return ticket, and by the time it was spent the dreams were fading and she was glad to get a job as stock girl in one of the Fifth Avenue stores.

"You'll never know how I lived. I don't know myself. I still had high hopes, but I don't photograph. I can't sing or dance. I'm too short for a model and I have no education. I lied about the last, and finally they promoted me to selling.

"I was selling teen-age dresses when I first saw Dan and Julia. He brought her in to be outfitted for boarding school, and I waited on them. Kay, you've no idea how wonderful he looked to me. In my ten years in New York I had met a few men—most of them hopeless drunks. I could have done just as well in my own home town, maybe better. I wanted to get married, but not to that kind, Dan was like the man from Mars."

She was in her late twenties, getting self-conscious about her age. Here was a man neither older nor callow, a man who looked as a man ought to look, handsome and lean and healthy. He came back a couple of times with Julia for fittings, and she found out who he was, that he was a widower and that he was stationed at West Point. She couldn't have been more impressed if he had been the Prince of Wales.

Insanely Jealous
GRADUALLY Julia's clothes became Mimi's problem. Every two or three months they would come in for a new outfit. Between times he or Julia would write for little things the kid needed. Mimi grew to look forward to those letters and to the shopping trips. Once they came just as she was going to lunch and insisted that she lunch with them. After that they always took her to lunch when they were in town.

And then, quite suddenly, she lost her job. It wasn't anything to her. The store was reducing expenses. So were the others, she discovered, and they were only taking in college girls. She couldn't get work. And she couldn't go home. Her family had consigned her to perdition ten years before, and in the meantime her mother had died and her father married again.

Her savings dwindled. In desperation, she took anything. She waited on tables in cheap Broadway restaurants, she even washed dishes for a week. Then she got sick.

But Dan and Julia were looking for her. They found her, and Dan asked her to marry him. She was pacing nervously from window to door and back again. The cigarette had burned almost to the edge of the dresser. I got up from my chair and extinguished the stub in an ash tray. She paid no attention to what I was doing.

"You see"—she swallowed painfully—"I've always known he did it because he was sorry for me, that he's never loved anyone but his first wife. I've tried and tried not to let it matter, just to go on loving him anyway, but every once in a while I break out and do something silly, like trying to make him jealous, or being sure he's having an affair with some woman."

She paused to moisten her soft curved lips with the tip of her tongue. I don't think I ever felt so sorry for anyone in my life. But I did not speak, just waited for her to go on. Anything I could have said would have seemed too hollow.

That's why I drive so much at night," she said at last in a strangled voice. "Sometimes—sometimes I follow him. I have spells when I'm insane with jealousy. It's destroying me. I know it's insane, but I can't help myself. I'm always bitterly ashamed when I find he goes just where he says he does. But the next time I do it all over again. Once I got the idea he might leave the meetings early and go on somewhere else, so once in a while I drive around and around, watching his car to make sure it's still parked where it was. One night—one night I passed a florist's shop and saw a man come out with a box of flowers and get in his car and drive away. It was dark, but the light from the show window filtered out, and it looked like Dan's car and the man looked like Dan. I went through hell that night. I walked the floor waiting for him. I might have done something terrible—irrevocable. But when he came in he was in uniform—it was an American Legion meeting, or something of the kind—and the instant I saw him I remembered that he had gone in uniform that night. And the man I saw was in civilian clothes. Of course it wasn't Dan. But that just shows you."

"Ingratiating"
"HAVE you ever let him know you were jealous?"
"Just once. When we were first married. He snubbed me so frightfully that I've never dared speak of it again. Kay, a woman is at a terrible disadvantage when she's in love. I'm so afraid that I'll lose what little I have. Not that it's such a little thing to be his wife, to make his home for him and dand his socks and see him every day—and be here when he wants me. If I wasn't a fool I'd be happy, wouldn't I?"
There wasn't any answer to that, and she didn't seem to expect one. I watched her draw up a chair and sit down facing me. She did not relax, but her face had smoothed out a bit, as if the painful confession had been a relief. Like drawing an aching tooth.
"I was going to tell you about Sandra wasn't I?" she asked presently. "I didn't mean to talk so much about myself. I just wanted you to understand how such a thing could happen."
"Jeff still had a year at the Academy when Colonel Tack died and Sandra came to New York. Dan suggested that I ask Sandra to West Point for a visit. So of course I did."
"I liked her very much at first. She's—she was ingratiating, you know. Dan thought she was perfect—always did. I noticed that of course. I went to her room, but I hadn't yet learned that there was no use trying to make Dan jealous. He just didn't notice. There were flocks of cads around the house all the time, and they all made a fuss over me—you know how kids are—and I used to play up in the hope that Dan would see I was still far from young and desirable. But as I say, Dan didn't notice."

BREAK IN DIAMONDS GIVES WARY PLAYER A SLAM CONTRACT

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

The annual tournament at Richmond, Va., has increased in size each year, but more important, the caliber of play at Richmond has stepped up to equal that in any part of the country. This year Richmond had two players, who participated in the Masters' individual tournament, Mrs. J. E. Folline and Dr. Arthur Salasky. In today's hand we find Mrs. Folline looking ahead to protect her contract against a bad break.

The opening bid of one club was not psychic, but is one used by many players to show sufficient opening high card strength, not necessarily a club suit. North's four no trump was the Blackwood convention, the response of five hearts showing two aces.

The opening lead of the 10 of spades was won in dummy with the ace. Two rounds of trumps, the king and queen, were cashed, and the diamond ace played. When the queen dropped, Mrs. Folline cashed the king and jack, then ruffed a diamond with the ace of hearts in dummy.

Had she made the mistake of leading three rounds of trumps before trying out the diamond situation, the contract would have been defeated.

$25,000 BARN FIRE
Derry, July 30 (P)—John Z. Bunkel, mine superintendent of the Atlantic Coal and Coke Company, estimated loss at $25,000 in the destruction by fire of a large barn on his summer estate near here. Four horses, 11 cows and 40 hogs burned to death. One hundred tons of hay and other crops also were destroyed.

The five busiest airports in the United States handled more passengers in 1937 than the 15 busiest European airports for the same year.

ASKS EXTRADITION
The governor's office today issued a request for extradition of James Scobie, alias James Arrigo, alias James Denna, from Chicago on a charge of parole violation in Pennsylvania. He originally was found guilty of breaking and entering a building with intent to commit a felony in Erie according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

Corydon

Corydon, July 29 Last Wednesday members of the Sunday school classes of the Methodist church enjoyed a picnic luncheon at the Garth Stoltz camp at Butler Run. Games were played during the day, a number being victorious in winning prizes offered.

The Foreign Missionary Society met Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stoltz. The men were invited to join forces and participated in conducting the meeting, that was followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Three new members, namely Mrs. J. K. Crooks, Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. Harry Hammond, were present Wednesday for the W. C. T. U. meeting held with Mrs. Jessie Kennedy. The routine business session was followed by the election of officers, resulting in Mrs. B. M. Stoltz being elected president; Ruth Crooks secretary; Mrs. August Kopanski treasurer; Mr. Reid, who read an article on "Temperance," is the next assigned hostess.

Mrs. Giles Casler and daughter Mrs. Ruth Powell, of Cleveland vacationing for a time at the "Lanewood" in Randolph were visitors Thursday of Mrs. John Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neillon, Oil City, spent a recent weekend with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Leann. The former has arrived home from visiting Jamestown relatives.

A. J. Felman has recently completed the wiring of the Lynn Shipman home here occupied by the Stanley Flatts.

The home of Mrs. L. J. Archer and surrounding buildings are undergoing a new coat of paint.

George McMann, of Florida, has arrived to spend the summer with Mrs. McMann at their home in Corydon valley.

Mrs. Orlo Eaton, of Marshall Mich., arrived Saturday to spend an indefinite time with her brother, G. N. Mead, and her sister, Miss Alice Mead at "Friendly Camp."

PLEASANT TWP. MAN IS FOUND DEAD AT HOME

John Zimmerman, 58, well known resident of Lesser Hill, Pleasant township, was found dead in bed at his home this morning about 7:30 o'clock. According to members of the family, Mr. Zimmerman who suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in April, had been around the house last evening and seemed in good health and spirit when he retired. An attending physician who was called informed the coroner that Mr. Zimmerman probably passed away during the early hours of the morning from a heart attack.

Mr. Zimmerman was born in Berne, Switzerland, January 6, 1882. He was brought to Warren county by his parents in 1888, and has since resided in the vicinity of Glac.

He is survived by four brothers and a sister, Samuel, of Mohawk avenue, Gottlieb, of Warren, and Albert, at home, and Mrs. Christ Yutze, of Sheffield.

Removal was made to the Peterson funeral home where friends may call. Services will be held there Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Irving K. Dietrich, of the Emanuel Reformed church officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Zimmerman sustained a serious fracture of the right leg while skidding logs April 23rd, of this year, which resulted in an operation at the Hamot hospital some weeks ago, since which time he was believed to be making progress toward complete recovery.

STORM'S ANTICS

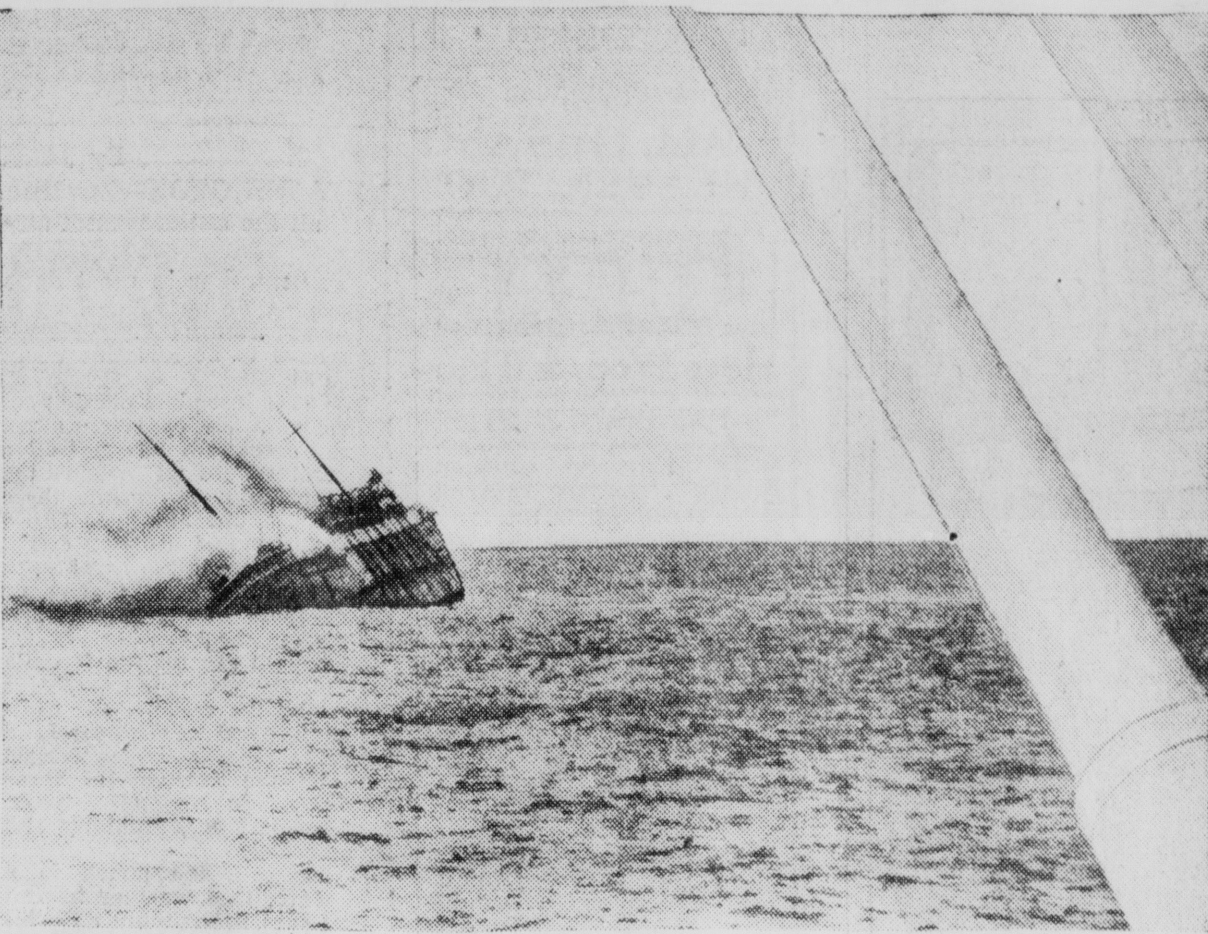

Towanda, July 30.—(P)—The cyclonic storm that swept through nearby Leraysville blew away John Davis' garage—but a car inside suffered only a dented fender. At the home of Mrs. Frank Krause clothes were swirled from a bedroom closet, through a window and were found a quarter of a mile away.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY, Kay tells all and realizes that the Colonel is now convinced of Jeff's guilt. She goes up to her room and finds Mimi there. Mimi bursts out "I'm glad she's dead. She was bad through and through."

Chapter 34 Mimi's Story

MIMI took a cigarette from the pack I offered her, lit it and began walking aimlessly about the room, straightening a picture, brushing an invisible speck from the dresser scarf, changing the position of a chair.

"I'm nobody," she began abruptly, in the hard voice of one making an unwilling confession. "I probably don't need to tell you that—it must be obvious that I'm out of my element. No—don't interrupt. Maybe it isn't obvious. That's what you were going to say, anyway—perhaps a bit more tactfully. We'll consider it said. But that isn't really what's troubling me. I just want to give you a complete picture of my background, so you'll understand better."

She laid the smoking cigarette on the edge of the dresser and began rearranging my comb and hand mirror which I had not yet repacked. I could see her face in the big glass as she talked, taut and strained and utterly unconscious of what she was doing.

She had been born in a little town in Ohio and her people were nobody even in that town. Her father worked by the day, her mother took in sewing. They grew before my eyes—decent, God-fearing people, with no education beyond the public schools. They had never been anywhere and never wanted to go. They named their only child Mammie and expected her to grow up and be happy in the same rut. But Mammie had other ideas.

She won a beauty contest when she was in high school. Her voice was flat as she told me about it, but a blush swept her tense face. The prize was a trip to New York. Mammie, entrained from her home town, but Mimi stopped off the train in Grand Central Station. And Mimi stayed on in New York—a beautiful girl in a city of beautiful girls, each, like Mimi, with bright dreams of the future. She cashed in her return ticket, and by the time it was spent the dreams were fading and she was glad to get a job as stock girl in one of the Fifth Avenue stores.

"I don't never know how I lived—I don't know myself. I still had high hopes, but I don't photograph well; I can't sing or dance; I'm too short for a model and I have no education. I lied about the last, and finally they promoted me to selling."

"I was selling teen-age dresses when I first saw Dan and Julia. He brought her in to be outfitted for boarding school, and I waited on them. Kay, you've no idea how wonderful he looked to me. In my ten years in New York I had met a few men—most of them hopeless drunks. I could have done just as well in my own home town, maybe better. I wanted to get married, but not to that kind. Dan was like the man from Mars."

She was in her late twenties, getting self-conscious about her age. Here was a man neither old nor callow, a man who looked as a man ought to look, handsome and lean and healthy. He came back a couple of times with Julia for fittings, and she found out who he was, that he was a widower and that he was stationed at West Point. She couldn't have been more impressed if he had been the Prince of Wales.

Insanely Jealous

GRADUALLY Julia's clothes became Mimi's problem. Every two or three months they would come in for a new outfit; between times he or Julia would write for little things the kid needed. Mimi grew to look forward to those letters and to the shopping trips. Once they came just as she was going to lunch and insisted that she lunch with them. After that they always took her to lunch when they were in town.

And then, quite suddenly, she lost her job. It wasn't anything to her discredit. The store was reducing expenses. So were the others, she discovered; and they were only taking in college girls. She couldn't get work. And she couldn't go home. Her family had consigned her to perdition ten years before, and in the meantime her mother had died and her father married again.

Her savings dwindled. In desperation, she took anything. She waited on tables in cheap Broadway restaurants; she even washed dishes for a week. Then she got sick.

But Dan and Julia were looking for her. They found her, and Dan asked her to marry him. She was pacing nervously from window to door and back again. The cigarette had burned almost to the edge of the dresser. I got up from my chair and extinguished the stub in an ash tray. She paid no attention to what I was doing.

"You see"—she swallowed painfully—"I've always known he did it because he was sorry for me, that he's never loved anyone but his first wife. I've tried and tried not to let it matter, just to go on loving him anyway; but every once in a while I break out and do something silly, like trying to make him jealous, or being sure he's having an affair with some woman—"

She paused to moisten her soft curved lips with the tip of her tongue. I don't think I ever felt so sorry for anyone in my life. But I did not speak, just waited for her to go on. Anything I could have said would have seemed too hollow.

"That's why I drive so much at night," she said at last in a strangled voice. "Sometimes—sometimes I follow him. I have spells when I'm insane with jealousy. It's destroying me. I know it's insane, but I can't help myself. I'm always bitterly ashamed when I find he goes just where he says he does. But the next time I do it all over again. Once I got the idea he might leave the meetings early and go on somewhere else, so once in a while I drive around and around, watching his car to make sure it's still parked where it was. One night—one night I passed a florist's shop and saw a man come out with a box of flowers and get in his car and drive away. It was dark, but the light from the show window filtered out, and it looked like Dan's car and the man looked like Dan. I went through hell that night. I walked the floor waiting for him. I might have done something terrible—irrevocable. But when he came in he was in uniform—it was an American Legion meeting, or something of the kind—and the instant I saw him I remembered that he had gone in uniform that night. And the man I saw was in civilian clothes. Of course, it wasn't Dan. But that just shows you—"

'Ingratiating'

"HAVE you ever let him know you were jealous?"

"Just once. When we were first married. He snubbed me, so I thought I'd never dared speak of it again. Kay, a woman is at a terrible disadvantage when she's in love. I'm so afraid that I'll lose what little I have. Not that it's such a little thing to be his wife, to make his home for him and darn his socks and see him every day and—and be here when he wants me. If I wasn't a fool I'd be happy, wouldn't I?"

There wasn't any answer to that, and she didn't seem to expect one. I watched her draw up a chair and sit down facing me. She did not relax, but her face had smoothed out a bit, as if the painful confession had been a relief. Like drawing an aching tooth.

"I was going to tell you about Sandra, wasn't I?" she asked presently. "I didn't mean to talk so much about myself. I just wanted you to understand how such a thing could happen."

"Jeff still had a year at the Academy when Colonel Tack died and Sandra came to New York. Dan suggested that I ask Sandra to West Point for a visit. So of course I did."

"I liked her very much at first. She was so ingratiating, you know. Dan thought she was perfect—always did. I noticed that, of course. I wasn't very happy, but I hadn't yet learned that there was no use trying to make Dan jealous. He just didn't notice. There were flocks of cadets around the house all the time. And they all made a fuss over me—you know how kids are—and I used to play up in the hope that Dan would see I was still fairly young and desirable. But as I say, Dan didn't notice."

Corydon

Corydon, July 29.—Last Wednesday members of the Sunday school classes of the Methodist church enjoyed a picnic luncheon at the Garth Stoltz camp at Butler Run. Games were played during the day, a number being victorious in winning prizes offered.

The Foreign Missionary Society met Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stoltz. The men were invited to join forces and participated in conducting the meeting that was followed by a social hour and refreshments.

Three new members, namely Mrs. J. K. Crooks, Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. Harry Hammond, were present Wednesday for the W. C. T. U. meeting held with Mrs. Jessie Kennedy. The routine business session was followed by the election of officers, resulting in Mrs. B. M. Stoltz being elected president; Ruth Crooks, secretary; Mrs. August Kopanski, treasurer. Mrs. Reid, who read an article on "Temperance," is the next assigned hostess.

Mrs. Giles Casler and daughter Mrs. Ruth Powell, of Cleveland, vacationing for a time at the "Lindwood" in Randolph, were visitors Thursday of Mrs. John Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neilson, Oil City, spent a recent week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Learn. The former has arrived home from visiting Jamestown relatives.

A. J. Felman has recently completed the wiring of the Lynn Shipman home here occupied by the Stanley Flatts.

The home of Mrs. L. J. Archer and surrounding buildings are undergoing a new coat of paint.

George McMann, of Florida, has arrived to spend the summer with Mrs. McMann at their home in Corydon vicinity.

Mrs. Orlo Eaton, of Marshall, Mich., arrived Saturday to spend an indefinite time with her brother, G. N. Mead, and her sister, Miss Alice Mead, at "Friendly Camp."

Miss Theresa Marsh accompanied by relatives of Farmers Valley, arrived home over the weekend from New York, where she attended the World's Fair.

Miss Geraldine Crooks has returned from spending a few days in Salamanca, the guest of Miss Shirley Geiger.

Garland Counts spending a week in Bradford with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Counts arrived home over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Geiger and family and Mrs. Stanley Geiger are among recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. David Counts.

The annual tournament at Richmond, Va., has increased in size each year, but more important, the caliber of play at Richmond has stepped up to equal that in any part of the country. This year Richmond had two players, who participated in the Masters' individual tournament—Mrs. J. E. Folline and Dr. Arthur Salasky. In today's hand we find Mrs. Folline looking ahead to protect her contract against a bad break.

The opening bid of one club was not psychic, but is one used by many players to show sufficient opening high card strength, not necessarily a club suit. North's four no trump was the Blackwood convention, the response of five hearts showing two aces.

The opening lead of the 10 of spades was won in dummy with the ace. Two rounds of trumps, the king and queen, were cashed, and the diamond ace played. When the queen dropped, Mrs. Folline rushed the king and jack, then cashed a diamond with the ace of hearts in dummy.

Had she made the mistake of leading three rounds of trumps before trying out the diamond situation, the contract would have been defeated.

$25,000 BARN FIRE

Derry, July 30.—(P)—John Z. Burket, mine superintendent of the Atlantic Coal and Coke Company, estimated loss at $25,000 in the destruction by fire of a large barn on his summer estate near here. Four horses, 11 cows and 40 hogs burned to death. One hundred tons of hay and other crops also were destroyed.

DALADIER, SCAPEGOAT

We do not know into what wilderness the Petain-Laval government of France is about to send Edouard Daladier.

But as they call this former premier of France before their bar of justice, one thinks automatically of Aaron, instructed, according to the Book of Leviticus, to "cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the Lord, and the other lot for the scapegoat." One was to be offered up as a sacrifice, the other, "on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat" was to be presented alive to the Lord "to make atonement with him," after which he was to be let go "for a scapegoat into the wilderness."

The collapse of France undoubtedly calls for a scapegoat, someone on whom the sins of a whole generation can be unloaded, and who can then be driven into the wilderness, leaving the people with the illusion that their own sins have gone with the scapegoat, clearing their own consciences and lightening the load on their own backs.

How human that is!

The aged Petain, who passed the World War under a brass hat at headquarters, is about to unload guilt on the shoulders of Daladier, who spent four years scrambling in the mud of the Champaign as a sergeant. The oily Laval, political acrobat who failed to judge the patriotism of the ex-sergeant who tried, too late, to rouse France to reality.

We are too far from France to judge accurately whatever case may be made against Daladier, whatever effort may be made to load upon him the guilt for the war and France's downfall.

But the urgent need for a scapegoat is clear. If France is to be rallied to the new Petain-Laval government, it must be taught that the former leadership was reckless, incompetent, and if possible disloyal.

Two years ago at just this time, Daladier was pleading with France to get down to work. A little later he was breaking the general strike that paralyzed French efforts for the moment. To avoid war, it was Daladier who submitted to the humiliation at Munich.

As between Petain-Laval and Daladier, Americans should not, and do not have to choose. But the odor of the burnt sacrifice, the aspect of sending forth a scapegoat into the wilderness, hangs heavily about the whole procedure.

ALICE WON'T COME TO WARREN

When the Hamid-Morton circus featuring Clyde Beatty and his jungle-bred lions and tigers comes to Warren next Monday under the auspices of the Warren County Shrine Club in aid of Zem Zem's Hospital for crippled children there will be one elephant that used to perform for the entertainment of show lovers that will not be appearing with the "thirty tons of elephants" traveling with the attraction.

It seems that Matthew Ferguson, a youthful New York sportsman, is using her in an experiment to find out whether elephants can be used successfully as beasts of burden on South Carolina farms.

Ferguson bought the elephant from the Clyde Beatty zoo in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to take the place of a tractor on his Chancefield plantation near Camden, S. C.

Alice, the elephant, was unfamiliar with plows, but Ferguson had Fleech, a trainer at the Beatty zoo, teaching her the new chores.

Some of Ferguson's neighbors protested against keeping the elephant in their vicinity. They remembered the episode several years ago when a circus elephant escaped and killed his trainer at Camden. But Alice is reported as "harmless as a kitten." Nevertheless, according to reports, the farmers are taking precautions.

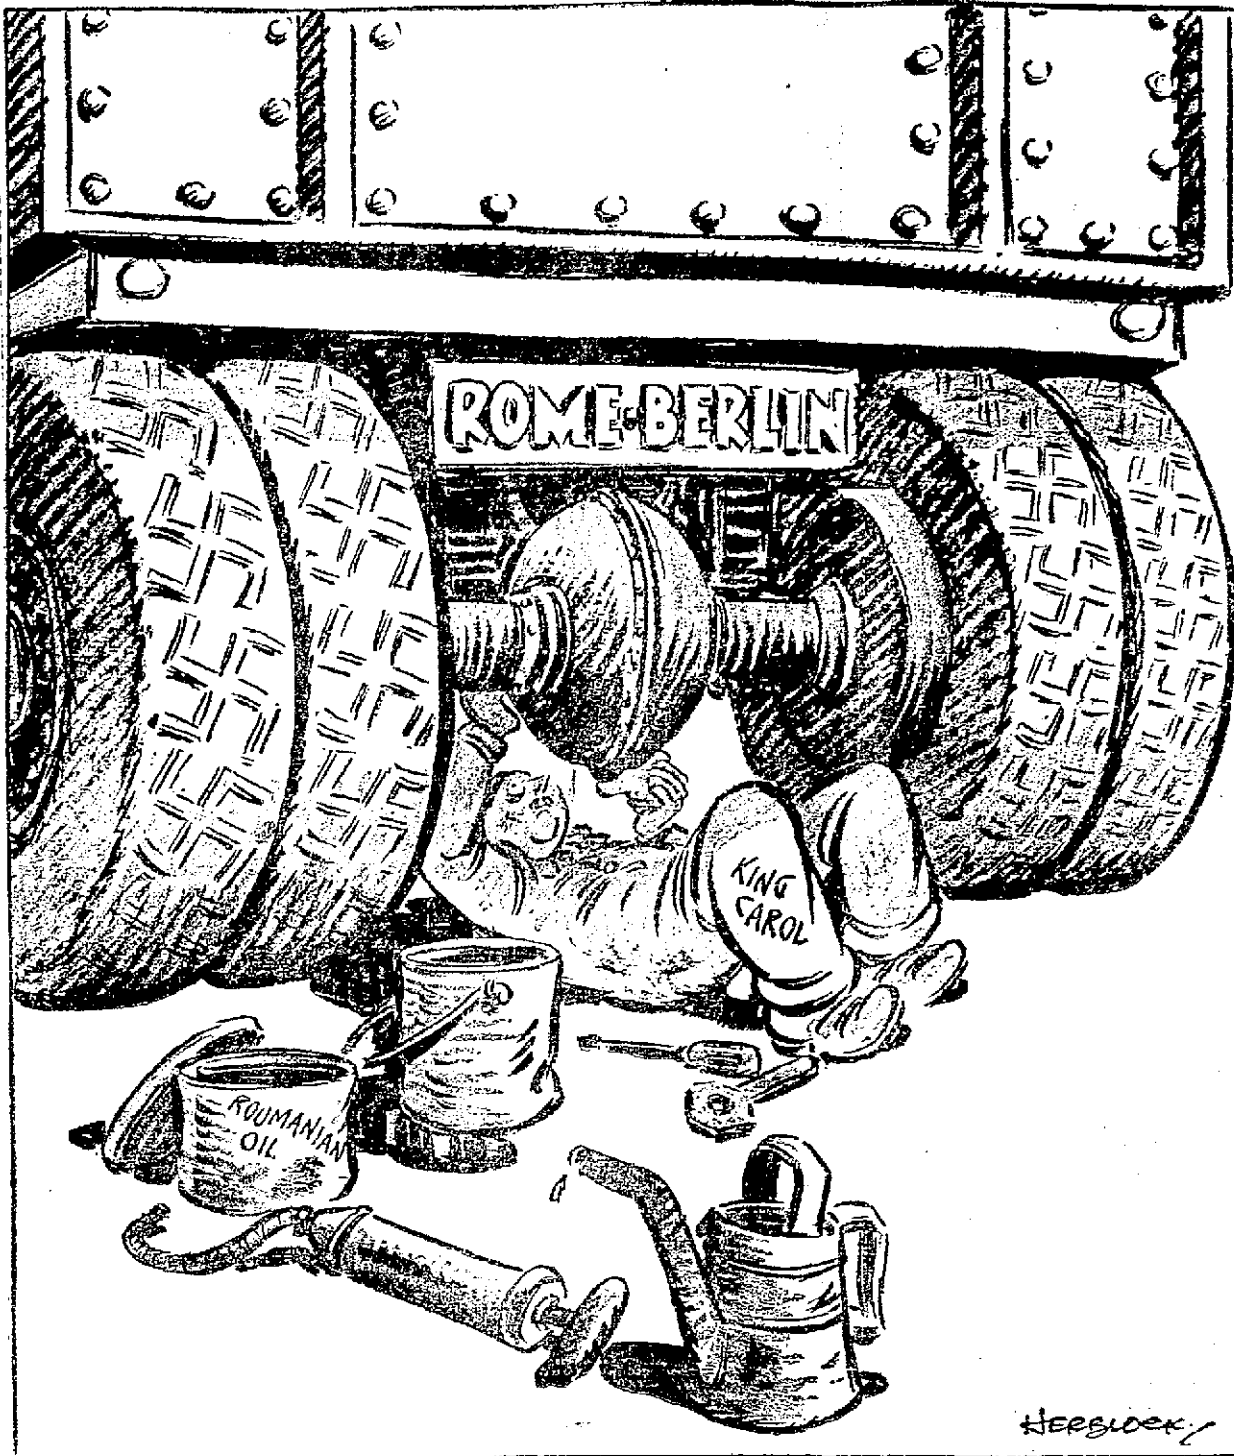

Henry Ford, observing his 77th birthday anniversary today, offers a consoling bit of philosophy, when he says he is convinced that the present conflict would not be of long duration. He was equally certain that it would "settle nothing, socially, economically or politically."

It won't be long now until parking meters will be clicking in Pennsylvania and Second avenues, between Liberty and Market streets.

ARNOLD ARGUES HIS ACTIVITIES AID REARMING

Washington, July 30.—Sooner or later, the Roosevelt administration is going to be forced to make up its mind whether it considers the anti-trust law an obstacle or an asset to its great rearmament program.

The decision will be forced on it partly, at least, by the energetic official now charged with enforcing that law—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold, head of the anti-trust division.

Arnold argues that full-capacity high-speed production of essential goods and materials cannot possibly be had until combinations which restrain trade in the interest of stabilized prices and "orderly" marketing are broken up.

He argues, further, that such combinations exist in almost every great industry—with a few important exceptions.

Despite a lot of undercover opposition, he is going ahead as fast as the men and money at his disposal permit, his record-breaking oil trust suit being only the most recent move.

At the other pole is the National Defense Committee.

No direct or indirect protest at Arnold's activities has come from top-Committee men Stettinius or Knudsen. From lesser lights there has come a good deal of muttering; from various army and navy officers, a good deal more. This is natural enough. The committee's job is to place a lot of orders and get quick delivery, which is also what the army and navy are interested in; if anti-trust suits and investigations make manufacturers jittery and seem likely to cause delay, protests are inevitable.

So far, things have not come to a head. During the next few months, however, Arnold's shifts are going to hit various firms which make essential war materials on government order. Complaints will increase, and the administration will have to choose.

Meanwhile, Arnold cites current British experience as bearing out his argument.

The ultra-conservative London Economist, in its June 15 issue, remarks that only now is Britain realizing how badly its war effort has been delayed by the network of marketing and production agreements and price-maintenance devices built up in British industry in the last two decades.

The magazine comments that this "is emphatically not a set of ideas that can be expected to yield the maximum of production," and adds: "British industry, by and large, has until recent weeks been making the maximum effort compatible with no disturbance to its customers now or to its profit-making capacity hereafter."

The same sort of thing, says Arnold, is true on this side of the water.

He also argues that monopolistic practices in America (and in England) have been of inestimable value to Hitler in recent years. This, as he sees it, works out like this:

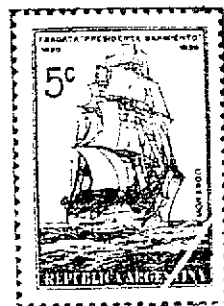

A given industry "stabilizes" its domestic price structure, limiting its yield to keep prices up. Its surplus is dumped abroad, to fall into Hitler's lap, to the vast benefit of his bolstered economy. Or surplus capital, instead of being invested at home—there's no place for it, because increased production is not wanted—is invested in Germany, to increase the productive capacity of the German industrial machine.

U. S. Navy Must Guard South American Nations

WESTERN HEMISPHERE defense, as far as naval power is concerned, rests with the U. S. Navy. Many of the other republics of the Americas have no navies, and the fleets of the others are filled with obsolete battle craft. There are five battleships, 17 cruisers and 28 destroyers in South American navies.

Argentina, which honored its naval forces with the stamp above, marking the last voyage of the training ship "Presidente Sarmiento" is building five new destroyers and five patrol vessels. Two battleships, six cruisers, a training cruiser, 17 destroyers, three submarines, 17 patrol vessels, two river monitors and six small transports make up Argentina's navy.

Brazil has two battleships, two cruisers, four destroyers, seven torpedo boats, three river monitors, seven mine layers and auxiliary craft. Chile counts one battleship, two coast defense ships, three cruisers, eight destroyers, nine submarines, six coast guard vessels.

Other craft include: Cuba, two cruisers; Peru, two cruisers, two destroyers, four submarines, one transport; Mexico, six transports, 10 new gunboats.

Russia's newest transport airplane, L-760, has a wing span of 260 feet, a height of 25 feet, a length of 112 feet, and a gross

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Government clerks and office workers in all the buildings not air-conditioned are playing the numbers.

The number in most departments always is 94, but in the Department of Agriculture, where Secretary Henry A. Wallace's boys have to be scientific about it, it's 84.

The 94 is just plain old degrees Fahrenheit. The 84 is an index figure describing an "effective temperature." And when the going or the mercury hits those numbers, about 25,000 or 30,000 government and district clerks are sent home, to the beaches, to parks, to air-cooled movies or wherever they want to go to find relief from the heat.

Now don't ask me the formula for "effective temperature." It's something the doctors, the heating and ventilating engineers, and the psychologists have worked out and I'm not any of those things. It has something to do with temperature, humidity and air movements.

It measures the punch in a heat wave. One weather bureau official says it is simply an arbitrary index to human feelings about heat and cold. Thomas H. Urdahl, consulting engineer, calls it an index of comfort.

Humidifying

THE point is that the Weather Bureau, public health service and the Department of Agriculture are agreed that index-figure 84 is the point beyond which people lose their effectiveness. It's something I'm going to take up with somebody. The other day that point was reached at 2 p. m. and another day about 2:45.

Just because folks around here get ineffective around 94 degrees, I don't want any of you out in the Nebraska hills or down on the Texas prairies to get any idea that we are sissies.

It's because of something they call humidity. That is, in New York and Philadelphia and Chicago, they call it humidity. Here they call it a lot of other things, none repeatable in a family newspaper.

Washington summer weather is a cross between a Turkish bath and a heat wave on the Sahara. The Turkish bath business is likely to start about the time the mercury reaches the middle 80's and from there on the combination really hits a lick. By the time the thermometer reaches the middle 90's, heat prostrations average 20 to 30 a day. A pal of mine who feels the same way I do about it calls it humidifying.

Cool Off In New York

PEOPLE in New York City go to the mountains or the beaches to get away from the heat, but people here go to New York City to get away from Washington. . . and if they behave themselves, they come back as fresh as if they had been vacationing with Wendell L. Willkie in "cool Colorado."

As far as I can see, the capital's summer climate has only one benefit. It does cut down on one's smoking. It gets so it takes too much energy to reach for a cigar.

So now you can see why government officials worry about things like "effective temperature" and why the boys and girls in the government service spend a lot of time these days watching the numbers.

If congress stays on the job this summer and the summer finishes as it started, I'd be in favor of giving the ins a vote of confidence. It'll take a couple of winters at those salaries for them to recuperate.

DALADIER, SCAPEGOAT

We do not know into what wilderness the Petain-Laval government of France is about to send Edouard Daladier.

But as they call this former premier of France before their bar of justice, one thinks automatically of Aaron, instructed, according to the Book of Leviticus, to "cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the Lord, and the other lot for the scapegoat." One was to be offered up as a sacrifice, the other, "on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat" was to be presented alive to the Lord "to make atonement with him," after which he was to be let go "for a scapegoat into the wilderness."

The collapse of France undoubtedly calls for a scapegoat, someone on whom the sins of a whole generation can be unloaded, and who can then be driven into the wilderness, leaving the people with the illusion that their own sins have gone with the scapegoat, clearing their own consciences and lightening the load on their own backs.

How human that is!

The aged Petain, who passed the World War under a brass hat at headquarters, is about to unload guilt on the shoulders of Daladier, who spent four years scrambling in the mud of the Champagne as a sergeant. The oily Laval, political acrobat who failed to judge the patriotism of the ex-sergeant who tried, too late, to rouse France to reality.

We are too far from France to judge accurately whatever case may be made against Daladier, whatever effort may be made to load upon him the guilt for the war and France's downfall.

But the urgent need for a scapegoat is clear. If France is to be rallied to the new Petain-Laval government, it must be taught that the former leadership was reckless, incompetent, and if possible disloyal.

Two years ago at just this time, Daladier was pleading with France to get down to work. A little later he was breaking the general strike that paralyzed French efforts for the moment. To avoid war, it was Daladier who submitted to the humiliation at Munich.

As between Petain-Laval and Daladier, Americans should not, and do not have to choose. But the odor of the burnt sacrifice, the aspect of sending forth a scapegoat into the wilderness, hangs heavily about the whole procedure.

ALICE WON'T COME TO WARREN

When the Hamid-Morton circus featuring Clyde Beatty and his jungle-bred lions and tigers comes to Warren next Monday under the auspices of the Warren County Shrine Club in aid of Zem Zem's Hospital for crippled children there will be one elephant that used to perform for the entertainment of show lovers that will not be appearing with the "thirty tons of elephants" traveling with the attraction.

It seems that Matthew Ferguson, a youthful New York sportsman, is using her in an experiment to find out whether elephants can be used successfully as beasts of burden on South Carolina farms.

Some of Ferguson's neighbors protested against keeping the elephant in their vicinity. They remembered the episode several years ago when a circus elephant escaped and killed his trainer at Camden. But Alice is reported as "harmless as a kitten." Nevertheless, according to reports, the farmers are taking precautions.

Henry Ford, observing his 77th birthday anniversary today, offers a consoling bit of philosophy, when he says he is convinced that the present conflict would not be of long duration. He was equally certain that it would "settle nothing, socially, economically or politically."

It won't be long now until parking meters will be clicking in Pennsylvania and Second avenues, between Liberty and Market streets.

ARNOLD ARGUES HIS ACTIVITIES AID REARMING

Washington, July 30.—Sooner or later, the Roosevelt administration is going to be forced to make up its mind whether it considers the anti-trust law an obstacle or an asset to its great rearmament program.

The decision will be forced on it partly, at least, by the energetic official now charged with enforcing that law—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold, head of the anti-trust division.

Arnold argues that full-capacity high-speed production of essential goods and materials cannot possibly be had until combinations which restrain trade in the interest of stabilized prices and "orderly" marketing are broken up.

He argues, further, that such combinations exist in almost every great industry—with a few important exceptions.

Despite a lot of undercover opposition, he is going ahead as fast as the men and money at his disposal permit, his record-breaking oil trust suit being only the most recent move.

At the other pole is the National Defense Committee.

No direct or indirect protest at Arnold's activities has come from top-committeemen Stettinius or Knudsen. From lesser lights there has come a good deal of muttering; from various army and navy officers, a good deal more. This is natural enough. The committee's job is to place a lot of orders and get quick delivery, which is also what the army and navy are interested in; if anti-trust suits and investigations make manufacturers jittery and seem likely to cause delay, protests are inevitable.

So far, things have not come to a head. During the next few months, however, Arnold's shirts are going to hit various firms which make essential war materials on government order. Complaints will increase, and the administration will have to choose.

Meanwhile, Arnold cites current British experience as bearing out his argument.

The ultra-conservative London Economist, in its June 15 issue, remarks that only now is Britain realizing how badly its war effort has been delayed by the network of marketing and production agreements and price-maintenance devices built up in British industry in the last two decades. The magazine comments that this "is emphatically not a set of ideas that can be expected to yield the maximum of production," and adds:

"British industry, by and large, has until recent weeks been making the maximum effort compatible with no disturbance to its customs now or to its profit-making capacity hereafter."

The same sort of thing, says Arnold, is true on this side of the water.

He also argues that monopolistic practices in America (and in England) have been of inestimable value to Hitler in recent years. This, as he sees it, works out like this:

A given industry "stabilizes" its domestic price structure, limiting its yield to keep prices up. Its surplus is dumped abroad—to fall into Hitler's lap, to the vast benefit of his bolstered economy. Or surplus capital, instead of being invested at home—there's no place for it, because increased production is not wanted—is invested in Germany, to increase the productive capacity of the German industrial machine.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1920

The long fight to save Company I for Warren has for a second time within the past four years been written into the annals of the past. The organization, mustering a strength of 71 enlisted men and three officers, became a unit in the federal service following a formal ceremony last night.

Only about $5,000 has been subscribed to the fund to celebrate Old Home Week here in connection with the Warren County Fair. Ten thousand dollars more is needed to assure success of the most stupendous celebration.

Louis "Pike" Peterson, who played under the management of "Shag" Shaughnessy when he had charge of the Warren Interstate league team in 1915, is again pitching for the former Warren pilot. Peterson was sold to the Hamilton team, of the Michigan-Ontario league, this week by Toronto.

It has been decided to locate the antiquity exhibit in connection with Old Home Week on the ground facing Pennsylvania avenue, north of the soldiers' and sailors' monument and opposite the Citizen's National Bank.

Mrs. Frank Lyons entertained her bridge club at the Woman's Club this afternoon.

The Carlson Service and Mohawk Tire crews will mix in the Sunset League tilt at Russell Field tomorrow.

Fourteen members of the old Norris Athletic Club baseball team enjoyed a chicken dinner at the Carver House last night and held the first reunion that has been experienced in many years. Those in attendance were: W. C. Norris, manager, Eustice, W. Barney, Annundson, Dailey, Wright, Carmony, Kightlinger, Moore, Magee, F. Barney, Campbell, Allen and McNett.

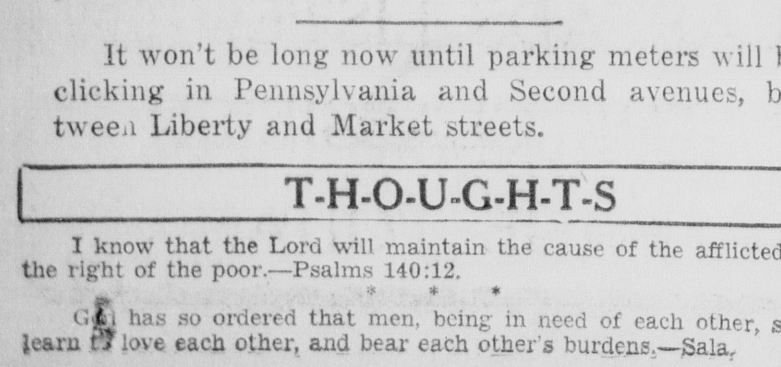

Local officials of the Izaak Walton League are very much concerned about the increased posting of fishing which has taken place this season. President Sherm Offler announced this morning.

Reports are to the effect that work is progressing rapidly on the Tidoute road. The berms are being smoothed and guard rail posts placed in position by two large crews of men.

Low score for men at the Tom Thum golf course at the American Legion home yesterday went to Fred McCoy, who turned in a 43, and with 48 for Mrs. Edna Dalrymple, who won the ladies' low.

Russia's newest transport airplane, L-760, has a wing span of 260 feet, a height of 25 feet, a length of 112 feet, and a gross weight of 45 tons.

U. S. Navy Must Guard South American Nations

WESTERN HEMISPHERE defense, as far as naval power is concerned, rests with the U. S. Navy. Many of the other republics of the Americas have no navies, and the fleets of the others are filled with obsolete battle craft. There are five battleships, 17 cruisers and 28 destroyers in South American navies.

Argentina, which honored its naval forces with the stamp above, marking the last voyage of the training ship "Presidente Sarmiento," is building five new destroyers and five patrol vessels. Two battleships, six cruisers, a training cruiser, 17 destroyers, three submarines, 17 patrol vessels, two river monitors and six small transports make up Argentina's navy.

Brazil has two battleships, two cruisers, one destroyer, seven torpedo boats, four submarines, one gunboat, three river monitors, seven mine layers and auxiliary craft. Chile owns one battleship, two coast defense ships, three cruisers, eight destroyers, nine submarines, six coast guard vessels.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

Here are some questions about music and musicians. How many of them can you answer correctly?

- Who wrote the following operas: Marriage of Figaro, Freischütz, Boris Godunov, Fidelio, The King's Henchman?
- Who wrote the librettos for the light operas of Sir Arthur Sullivan?
- How many pianos does the usual symphony orchestra have?
- What is the relationship between the sonata, the concerto, and the symphony?
- Can drums be tuned?

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Government clerks and office workers in all the buildings not air-conditioned are playing the numbers.

The number in most departments always is 94, but in the Department of Agriculture, where Secretary Henry A. Wallace's boys have to be scientific about it, it's 84.

The 94 is just plain old degrees Fahrenheit. The 84 is an index figure described as "effective temperature." And when the gong or the mercury hits those numbers, about 25,000 or 30,000 government and district clerks are sent home, to the beaches, to parks, to air-cooled movies or wherever they want to go to find relief from the heat.

Now don't ask me the formula for "effective temperature." It's something the doctors, the heating and ventilating engineers, and the psychologists have worked out and I'm not any of those things. It has something to do with temperature, humidity and air movements.

It measures the punch in a heat wave. One weather bureau official says it is simply an arbitrary index to human feelings about heat and cold. Thomas H. Urdahl, consulting engineer, calls it an index of comfort.

Humidifying

THE point is that the Weather Bureau, public health service and the Department of Agriculture are agreed that index-figure 84 is the point beyond which people lose their effectiveness. Which is something I'm going to take up with somebody. The other day that point was reached at 2 p. m. and another day about 2:45.

Just because folks around here get ineffective around 94 degrees, I don't want any of you out in the Nebraska hills or down on the Texas prairies to get any idea that we are sissies.

It's because of something they call humidity. That is, in New

Cool Off In New York

PEOPLE in New York City go to the mountains or to the beaches to get away from the heat, but people here go to New York City to get away from Washington. . . and if they behave themselves, they come back as fresh as when they were vacationing with Wendell L. Wilkie in "cool Colorado."

As far as I can see, the capital's summer climate has only one benefit. It does cut down on one's smoking. It gets so it takes too much energy to reach for a cigarette.

So now you can see why government officials worry about things like "effective temperature" and why the boys and girls in the government service spend a lot of time these days watching the numbers.

If congress stays on the job this summer and the summer finishes as it started, I'd be in favor of giving the ins a vote of confidence. I'll take a couple of winters at those salaries for them to recuperate.

Margaret A. Johnson and Richard Nelson United in Marriage in the Nazarene Church

Miss Margaret A. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Johnson, Jackson street extension, and Richard Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Nelson, 711 Conewago avenue, were united in marriage at eight o'clock last evening in the First Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. H. Blair Ward, pastor, performed the ceremony. Miss Lois Emery, organist, played Liszt's "Liebestraum" and "Whispering Hope," together with the traditional wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn. Garden flowers were used to decorate the church.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a gown of white chiffon, fashioned with short puffed sleeves and full skirt. She wore a finger-length veil and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and baby's breath.

Her only attendant was Miss Betty Jane Dietrich, 202 North South street, who wore a frock of peach colored organza with sprays of white flowers. Her arm bouquet was of Gloria roses.

Mrs. Nelson wore wine crepe and a yellow rose corsage and Mrs. Johnson wore a pink rose corsage with a gown of flowered chiffon.

Harold L. Johnson, the bride's brother, attended Mr. Nelson as best man and ushers were Frank Flood and Stanley Albaugh, both of Warren.

An informal reception for the families was held at the Johnson home immediately following the ceremony, guests including Mr. Frigalis, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson and family, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Nelson, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dasher and Mrs. Cecil Wingard, Youngville.

The bride is employed in the office of Dr. E. M. Breed and Mr. Nelson is employed in the South Side Market.

Charles Kullman Heads Musical Offerings In Fifth Week of Chautauqua's 67th Year

The musical highlight of the fifth week at Chautauqua will be the presentation of Charles Kullman as soloist with the orchestra at 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening. Mr. Kullman, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, returns on this occasion to the institution where he once sang in the opera company.

This evening at 8:15, Mr. Stoessel will offer a symphony program with George Britton, baritone, as soloist.

A special Bach-Mozart program will be presented by the symphony at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon and in the evening, the regular concert will be devoted to the works of Jan Sibelius.

Thursday is Dental Day, with dentists assembling for dinner at 6:30 and an address at 8:15 by Dr. David Ast, dental representative of the New York state dental health. The first dental discussion of the day is at ten o'clock in Smith-Wilkes hall and at 1:15 the dentists and their guests will have a golf tournament at the Country Club.

Also on Thursday evening, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" will be given by the theatre company in Norton Memorial Hall.

Woman's Club members at their meeting at 8:15 on Friday afternoon will have Mr. Stoessel as special speaker. The 8:15 o'clock address will be given by Phyllis Bottom, author of the currently popular "Mortal Storm."

On Saturday, Chautauqua will hold its second annual Youth Day. At eleven o'clock, Mr. Stoessel's young people's concert will be broadcast over WEAH and associated stations. The chief spot for youth in the day's program is the exercises at two o'clock in the amphitheatre. Mr. Kullman will appear at 8:15 the same evening.

The judging of these exhibits by the committee of club girls will start at 10:45. Between 10:45 and 12:00 there will be a supervised recreation in the gymnasium for those not judging. A picnic lunch will be served at noon for the members, their parents, and friends. The afternoon program has not been completed but several demonstrations have been planned. There will also be a Style Revue in which girls who have made dresses in their 4-H Club work this summer will take part.

The heat with 333 drownings. Weather observers reported a "rather slight" cool air mass moving eastward from North Dakota and Minnesota but it was not expected to afford much relief beyond northern Illinois and Indiana.

Showers brought temporary respite in the lake region and at scattered points in the Appalachian and Gulf states, the Appalachian district and the upper Ohio valley. Torrential rains in the foothills west of Fountain, Colo., caused extensive damage to crops, washed out railroad tracks and delayed automobile traffic between Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

Late afternoon showers yesterday provided overnight relief for Washington, D. C., where nine deaths were reported in a 24-hour period.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It's all right, in case the folks back in Omaha and Grand Island, Neb., are wondering, Henry Fonda still is Henry Fonda, after four years and 20-odd pictures in a town that's turned older heads than Hank's.

Take the guy and his family, for instance. Fonda is an old-style family man. He likes to quit work on time and go home. If he's not home by 8:30 the youngsters are in bed, and Papa Fonda feels cheated. He and Fritz Lang, making "The Return of Frank James," haven't been able to see eye to eye on quitting times lately. There's been overtime. Papa Fonda knows about schedules, and he's reasonable, but a fella has to see his family once in a while, doesn't he? There were locations—seven weeks of 'em—during which he saw the family just twice.

Something had to be done. The Fondas broke precedent. For the first time, Mrs. Fonda visited the set and brought the children, Frances, Evelyn, 8, and Jayne Seymour Fonda, 2. Peter, whose age is still counted in weeks, couldn't join the party but Papa Fonda had a good visit with the others.

L'VEN in a dress suit Henry Fonda looks like the perennial rustic. He's the mountain boy of "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and the farmer boy of "The Farmer Takes a Wife" and he's Tom Joad of "The Grapes of Wrath" and he's "Young Mr. Lincoln." And no amount of polish covers up the genuine earthiness of the Fonda make-up. He can have a swell time in a night spot and still look like a lad who'll be up early milking the cows.

There's a legend about town that Fonda occasionally visits four-bit flop houses and spends a tight with the down-and-outers to remind himself that life is not all beer and skittles. The Fonda life before Hollywood wasn't moonlight and roses. After he got the stage yen from three years in the Omaha community theater, and went to New York, he had his share of pavement-pounding and hunger. "A nickel's worth of rice swells up into a mighty filling dish," he can tell you. He's had jobs as iceman, telephone trouble-shooter, garage mechanic, window-dresser—and for painful periods no jobs at all. His favorite scent, even today, is the smell of a bakery in operation.

SHORTLY after he came to town he had an interview with a woman magazine writer who wanted to do a story on "Henry Fonda's Love Life." Fonda naturally paled and refused to talk. The story came out, quoting Fonda on his ex-wife, Margaret Sullivan. That's what made him an interview-dodger for years. Lately he has loosened up, but he still is the despair of publicity men except that he's likeable and cooperative and is his own best "story."

Walter Wanger brought him out here first. Fonda told Wanger he didn't like the idea and wanted to go back, and Wanger thought he wanted more than he was offered. Fonda couldn't talk when Wanger offered $1,000 a week. He's still here.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The visitor to New York wants to see many things, and if he is of an imaginative trend, and dwells so long in fancy on the things he wants to see, he is apt to be disappointed when finally he is face to face with them. I can remember being distinctly disappointed with ocean liners and with Grand Central terminal when I first got here, back in the twenties. You hear so much of "vast" things that when you actually meet up with them you find that fancy has outstripped reality.

Today the big liners seem unbelievably enormous to me, and Grand Central seems too vast even to contemplate. I was even disappointed in the skyscrapers and in the skyline. To my naive mind I imagined a wall of turrets that reached to the clouds. Nothing of the sort exists. Today those same buildings and this same skyline seem inexpressibly beautiful. Appreciation of size grows with familiarity. New Yorkers never realize how immense their city and their towers are until they go away to other cities and communities. Then they seem more immense and more wonderful than ever.

BUT if I were coming to New York only for a day, or for a week, I would forget about ruining my health on a "sight-seeing" chase of the city. I would spend several hours in the cool of the evening on a bench in Central Park, looking at the reflected silhouette of the midtown towers in the waters. I would listen to the wild ducks as they quack contentedly within stone's throw of 46-story buildings. I would sit there for awhile and drink in the air, listening to the music and watching the people. Then I would get on a bus and climb to the top of it and ride down 5th avenue and back again. You remember those fellows courting their girls on those busses, and indeed, right out on the open sidewalks. They are favorite courting places in New York. That is one of the disadvantages of city life for the young. They haven't any lanes for strolling, no privacy whatever.

Then I would consult the newspapers very carefully and select just the one show on Broadway that would seem more completely to meet my entertainment demands than any other. And I would set about getting a pair of good tickets to them—even if I had to get them from an agency and pay extra. If you are going to see only one show, you want to see it right. If you like drama, let me recommend "There Shall Be No Night." If you want musical comedy that is keyed gently to the headlines, let me recommend "Louisiana Purchase." You yourself can go on from there.

BE CHARY of Broadway nightclubs. Many are dull and over-priced. Consult, rather, the manager of your hotel, or, better still, telephone the amusement editor of any of the daily papers and let him recommend a spot for you. His advice will be wise, and it will save you money.

New York is a circus for the race-mad who feel they must scurry from one end of it to the other without letting their shirts tail touch their backs. It is also a haven for the tranquil minded who can take their pleasure in measured stride.

Miss Margaret A. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Johnson, Jackson street extension, and Richard Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Nelson, 711 Conewago avenue, were united in marriage at eight o'clock last evening in the First Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. H. Blair Ward, pastor, performed the ceremony. Miss Lois Emery, organist, played Liszt's "Liebestraum" and "Whispering Hope," together with the traditional wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn. Garden flowers were used to decorate the church.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a gown of white chiffon, fashioned with short puffed sleeves and full skirt. She wore a fingertip length veil and carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and baby's breath.

Her only attendant was Miss Betty Jane Dietrich, 202 North Peach street, who wore a frock of peach colored organza with sprays of white flowers. Her arm bouquet was of Gloria roses.

Mrs. Nelson wore wine crepe and a yellow rose corsage and Mrs. Johnson wore a pink rose corsage with a gown of flowered chiffon.

An informal reception for the families was held at the Johnson home immediately following the ceremony, guests including Mr. Frigalis, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson and family, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Nelson, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dasher and Mrs. Cecil Wingard, Youngville.

The bride chose a white ensemble with black accents for a wedding trip through Ohio and southern Michigan, after which they will make their home in Warren. The bride is employed in the office of Dr. E. M. Breed and Mr. Nelson is employed in the South Side Market.

Pre-nuptial parties given for the bride-elect included a luncheon at which Mrs. George L. Johnson was hostess and a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Maurice Emery at her cottage.

Also on Thursday evening, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" will be given by the theatre company in Norton Memorial Hall. But Faint Hope Held Out For Break in Heat

The heat with 383 drownings. Weather observers reported a "rather slight" cool air mass moving eastward from North Dakota and Minnesota but it was not expected to afford much relief beyond northern Illinois and Indiana.

Showers brought temporary respite in the lake region and scattered points in the Atlantic and Gulf states, the Appalachian district and the upper Ohio valley. Torrential rains in the foothills west of Fountain, Colo., caused extensive damage to crops, washed out railroad tracks and delayed automobile traffic between Colorado Springs and Pueblo.

Late afternoon showers yesterday provided overnight relief for Washington, D. C., where nine deaths were reported in a 24-hour period.

Not be of long duration. He was certainly certain, he added, that it would "settle nothing, socially, economically or politically."

"I was born in war years, (the Civil War), and I've seen many wars come and go since," he said. "This one will pass, too, but the surest thing I know is that the peoples of neither victor nor vanquished will profit from it."

"It will make more imperative than ever the need for a general return to work and the production in unlimited volume of the things human beings need."

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It's all right, in case the folks back in Omaha and Grand Island, Neb., are wondering, Henry Fonda still is Henry Fonda, after four years and 20-odd pictures in a town that's turned older heads than Hank's.

Take the guy and his family, for instance. Fonda is an old-style family man. He likes to quit work on time and go home. If he's not home by 6:30 the youngsters are in bed, and Papa Fonda feels cheated. He and Fritz Lang, making "The Return of Frank James," haven't been able to see eye to eye on quitting times lately. There's been a lot of time. Papa Fonda knows about schedules, and he's reasonable, but a fella has to see his family once in a while, doesn't he? There were locations—seven weeks of 'em—during which he saw the family just twice.

Something had to be done. The Fondas broke precedent. For the first time, Mrs. Fonda visited the set and brought the children—Frances Brokaw, 8, and Jayne Seymour Fonda, 2 Peter, whose age is still counted in weeks, couldn't join the party but Papa Fonda had a good visit with the others.

EVEN in a dress suit Henry Fonda looks like the perennial rustic. He's the mountain boy of "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and the farmer boy of "The Farmer Takes a Wife" and he's Tom Joad of "The Grapes of Wrath" and he's "Young Mr. Lincoln." And no amount of polish covers up the genuine earthiness of the Fonda make-up. He can have a swell time in a night spot and still looks like a lad who'll be up early milking the cows.

There's a legend about town that Fonda occasionally visits four-bit flop houses and spends a right with the down-and-outers to remind himself that life is not all beer and skittles. The Fonda life before Hollywood wasn't moonlight and roses. After he got the stage yen from three years in the Omaha community theater, and went to New York, he had his share of pavement-pounding and hunger. "A nickel's worth of rice swells up into a mighty filling dish," he can tell you. He's had jobs as iceman, telephone trouble-shooter, garage mechanic, window-dresser—and for painful periods no jobs at all. His favorite scent, even today, is the smell of a bakery in operation.

SHORTLY after he came to town he had an interview with a woman magazine writer who wanted to do a story on "Henry Fonda's Love Life." Fonda, naturally, paled and refused to talk. The story came out, quoting Fonda on his ex-wife, Margaret Sullivan. That's what made him an interview-dodger for years. Later he loosened up, but he still is the despair of publicity men except that he's likeable and cooperative and is his own best "story."

Walter Wanger brought him out here first. Fonda told Wanger he didn't like the idea and wanted to go back, and Wanger thought he wanted more than he was offered. Fonda couldn't talk when Wanger offered $1,000 a week. He's still here.

Japs Campaign on Spies

Leslie Craig and Joseph C. Grew. London, July 30.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax said before the House of Lords today, "it is hardly necessary to state that there is no foundation whatsoever" for the allegation by Japan of a spy network in Japan.

Britain is "entirely unable to accept the totally unwarranted assumption of guilt" on the part of Melville J. Cox, Reuters (British news agency) Tokyo correspondent, as published by the Japanese government, he said.

KILLED ON RAILS

Allentown, July 30.—(P)—A man identified by cards in his clothing as Thomas Costello, of Wilkes-Barre, was decapitated today in the Lehigh Valley Railroad yards. He was about 65. Trainmen found the body. They said he had been chased from the yards on previous occasions. Police said it appeared that he might have gone to sleep on the tracks.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The visitor to New York wants to see many things, and if he is of an imaginative trend, and dwells so long in fancy on the things he wants to see, he is apt to be disappointed when finally he is face to face with them. I can remember being distinctly disappointed with ocean liners and with Grand Central terminal when I first got looking back the twenties. You hear so much of "vast" things that when you actually meet up with them you find that fancy has outstripped reality.

Today the big liners seem unbelievably enormous to me, and Grand Central seems too vast even to contemplate. I was even disappointed in the skyscrapers and in the skyline. To my naive mind I imagined a wall of turrets that reached to the clouds. Nothing of the sort exists. Today those same buildings and this same skyline seem inexpressibly beautiful. Appreciation of size grows with familiarity. New Yorkers never realize how immense their city and their towers are until they go away to other cities and communities. Then they seem more immense and more wonderful than ever.

BUT if I were coming to New York only for a day, or for a week, I would forget about ruining my health on a "sight-seeing" chase of the city. I would spend several hours in the cool of the evening on a bench in Central Park, looking at the reflected silhouette of the midtown towers in the waters. I would listen to the wild ducks as they quack contentedly within stone's throw of 40-story buildings. I would sit there for awhile and drink in the air, listening to the music and watching the people. Then I would get on a bus and climb to the top of it and ride down 5th avenue and back again. You should see young fellows courting their girls on those busses, and indeed, right out on the open sidewalks. They are favorite courting places in New York. That is one of the disadvantages of city life for the young. They haven't any lanes for strolling, no privacy whatever.

Then I would consult the newspapers very carefully and select just the one show on Broadway that would seem more completely to meet my entertainment demands than any other. And I would get about getting a pair of good tickets to them—even if I had to get them from an agency and pay extra. If you are going to see only one show, you want to see it right. If you like drama, let me recommend "There Shall Be No Night." If you want musical comedy that is keyed gently to the headlines, let me recommend "Laurels and Cakes." You yourself can go on from there.

BE CHARY of Broadway nightclubs. Many are dull and over-priced. Consult, rather, the manager of your hotel, or, better still, telephone

Treasurer's Sale of Seated Lots and Tracts of Land for the Years 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938

In compliance with and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the several Acts of Assembly and specifically the Act approved May 29, 1931, P. L. 1931, page 280, P. L. 243, 1937 and P. L. 276, Page 498, 1939, authorizing and empowering the County Treasurers to sell at public sale all seated lands upon which taxes assessed by authority of any County, Borough, Town, Township, School District and Poor District are delinquent, remain unpaid and fixing penalties, etc.

The purpose of said sale is to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, penalties and costs, therein provided. Said sale will be held at the Court House in the Borough of Warren, County of Warren, and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on Monday, the fifth day of August A. D. 1940 at 10 o'clock A. M. Daylight Saving Time.

Said lots and tracts of land will be sold to the highest bidder on the following terms: As soon as property is struck down payment of the amount of the purchase money or such part thereof as may be necessary to pay all taxes, penalties, interest and costs, and one dollar and fifty cents for use of Prothonotary, for entering the report of Treasurer and Acknowledgement of Treasurer's deed.

In case said amount is not paid forthwith after the property is struck down, the sale may be avoided and property immediately put up again by the said Treasurer.

No bid will be accepted for less than Taxes, Interest, Penalty and Costs.

If a bid is in excess of said amount, the purchasers will be required to make and execute to said Treasurer for use of the persons entitled a bond for the surplus money that may remain after satisfying all the taxes and costs as aforesaid with warrant of Attorney to confess Judgment annexed thereto.

To all persons, owners, or reputed owners of property, terre tenants or any claiming an interest in the following described lots or tracts of land: You are hereby notified that your property situated in the Boroughs or Townships as hereinafter described has been returned for non-payment of taxes for the years designated, and unless such taxes and costs are paid on or before Monday, the fifth day of August, 1940, nine o'clock, A. M. Daylight Saving Time of said day the said premises will be sold by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on Monday the fifth day of August A. D. 1940 at 10 A. M. D. S. T.

PLANS FOR FAIR AT YOUNGSVILLE SHOW PROGRESS

Youngsville, July 29—Plans are rapidly going ahead for the tenth annual Youngsville community fair which begins on Wednesday, August 28, and continues to the last Saturday of the month. This year, for the first time, all the exhibit buildings on Island Park will have wooden sidings. In years past there has been some trouble with petty larceny. The fair board hopes to be better prepared to protect their exhibitors from theft and from inclement weather. Workers are already busy making these improvements. The sidings will be on hinges so that picknickers in the summer may use the buildings.

As usual one of the chief attractions of the fair will be the horse show. Warren county horses will be exhibited Friday evening, the 30th, and the regular show will be put on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The fair board is to meet Tuesday evening and further plans will be made. The booklets listing the classes of exhibits and the prizes will be ready for distribution in about two weeks.

TO BEGIN WORK

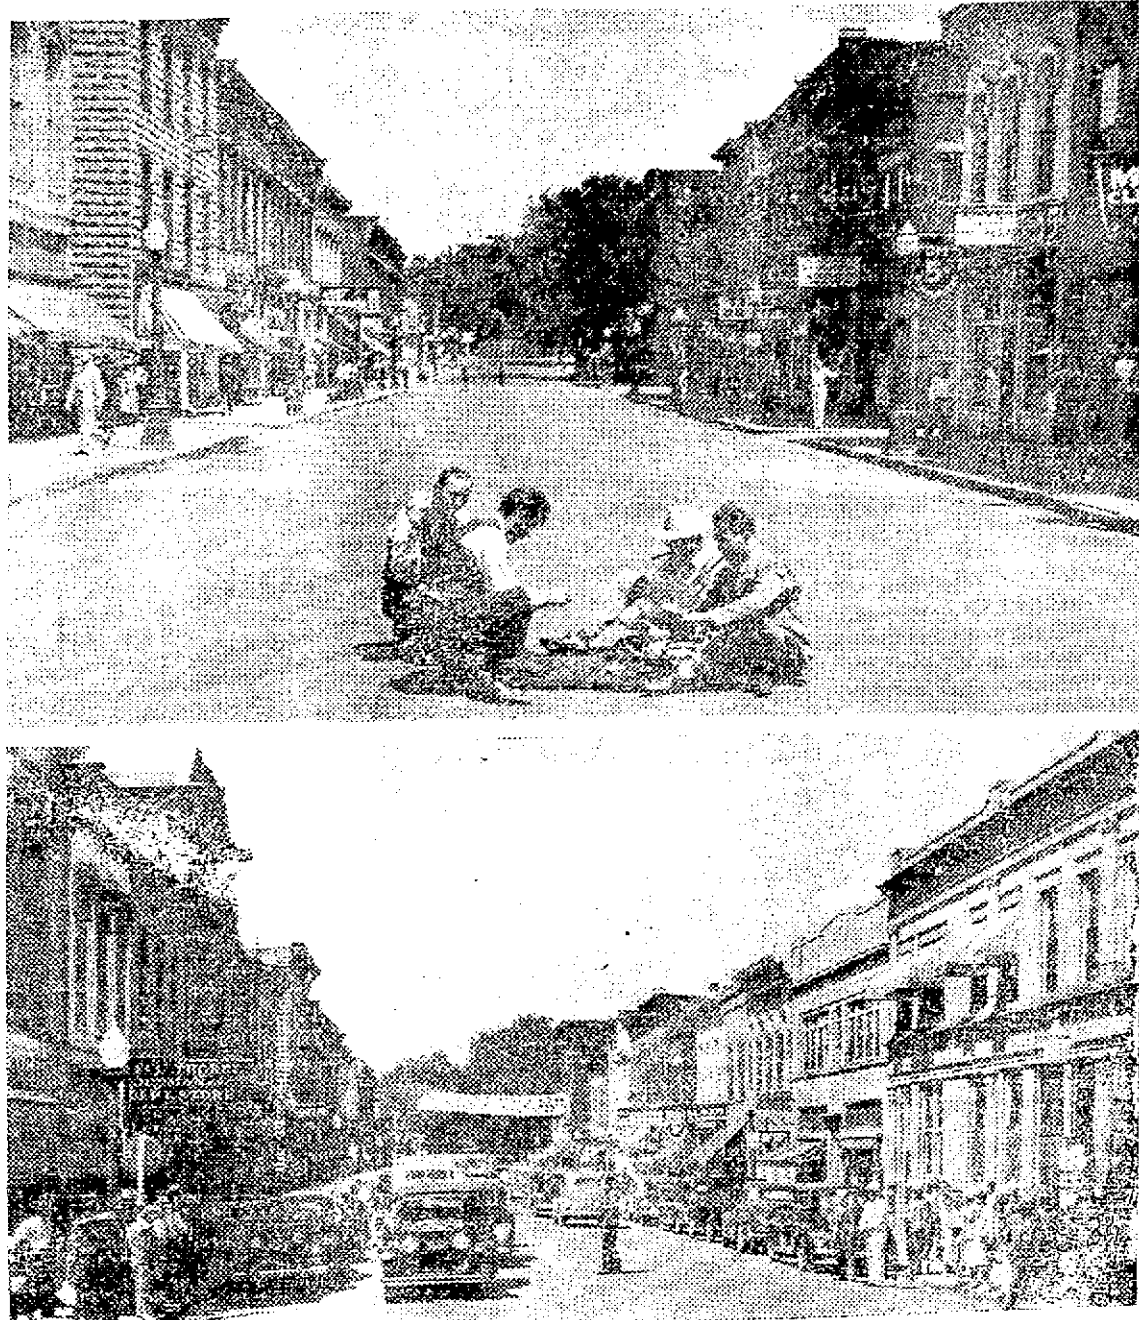

Work began today on laying new sidewalks in Youngsville. The walks in most of the town were torn up when the new sewer pipes were laid under them. The borough is furnishing the dirt to raise the sidewalk grade above that of the road. The new walks will be cement along all the main streets. This project has been badly needed for a number of years, but not until the road level was raised and the sewer system in could it be carried out. The work will begin on East Main street.

BRIEFS

The Brokenstraw Grange is planning a picnic supper at Ed Abraham's camp on Irvine Run on Wednesday evening. Members are asked to bring a turkey and table service. The meal is to be served at six o'clock and families are invited.

R. S. Hartley celebrated his 85th birthday at his home Sunday. He received the congratulations of friends and relatives. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, with their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, held a family reunion at Brookcrest Park.

After the dinner they played games and went swimming. Among the thirty members of the family group were members present from Warren, Greenville and Youngsville, Pa., Jamestown and Clymer, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson have returned from a short trip to the Grand Canyons of Pennsylvania and Letchworth Park in New York state. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wolf of Pittsfield.

Mrs. Robert Mead is visiting the

New York world fair.

Miss Nellie Knapp is visiting cousins in Rochester, N. Y. They plan a short Canadian trip.

John Bull and Elwood Oviatt have returned from a trip to Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith returned Saturday evening from a week at Ocean City.

The passenger-mileage figure is greater than the 12-month combined figure for all the rest of the airlines in the world.

AERIAL RAID

Philadelphia, July 30—(P)—Detectives called on the fire department for help in raiding a restaurant where they said a Chinese fan tan game was in progress. Finding the entrance barred by heavy steel doors they borrowed a fire ladder and slipped in a third story window. Detectives arrested four persons but said about 30 others escaped through secret passages.

Odors are said to have weight.

FEWER BUILDING PERMITS GIVEN IN THIS STATE

It is reported that in 238 municipalities of the state, 4,279 building permits were issued during the month of June for operations valued at $8,136,000. Due to decreased values for both major types of new building, particularly residential, the total value for June was 21.8 percent below that for May and 15.6 percent below last year's level. The $2,296,000 spent on alterations, additions and repairs, however, was 4.2 percent above last month's expenditure and 17.8 percent above last year's.

During June permits were issued for 829 residential buildings valued at $4,041,000 and accommodating 896 families. The value of new commercial buildings constructed for June in 238 cities was $1,707,000.

The report submitted to the Department of Labor and Industry shows that five building permits were issued in Warren in June. These were for improvements valued at $6,715.

One permit was for additions, alterations and repairs on a residential building valued at $2,000. The other four were for additions, alterations and repairs to non-residential buildings valued at $4,715.

In the 12 months from July, 1939, to June, 1940, 44 permits for work valued at $266,700 were issued. In the preceding 12 months, 36 permits for work valued at $168,494 were issued in Warren.

CITY LOSING ON PINBALLS

Pittsburgh, July 30—(P)—Chief Clerk Al Tronzo of the city treasurer's office estimates half of the 1,800 pinball machines here are being operated illegally. Officials seized 40 machines, charging owners were cheating the city out of hundreds of dollars of license fees by using bogus seals and illegally transferring licenses from one machine to another.

May Be Secretary Of Agriculture

Considered having the inside track for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's portfolio, "if, as and when" it is available, is Rep. Marvin Jones, above, of Amarillo, Tex. As Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee he has steered most New Deal farm bills through the House.

The Supervisors of Triumph Township, Warren County will receive bids until 6 o'clock P. M. July 31, 1940, for One V Type Snow Plow, with rear frame or rear axle hitch fitted with Spring Push Tubes, and front and rear carrying Spring Stabilizers, also a high Carbon Steel replaceable wearing plate to which the cutting edge is attached. Weight of the plow to be not less than 1800 pounds complete. Bids shall be for Ross R V 9-21 Junior plow or its equal.

Bids shall be mailed to or received by the secretary. The Supervisors reserve the right to reject any or all bids. John Buckley, Sec'y, Torpedo, Pa. R. D. 1, July 23-30-31.

State College, July 30—(P)—The $300,000 Burrows building, designed to house the School of Education at Pennsylvania State College, will be dedicated Thursday as the climax to the college's 18th annual conference for school superintendents and principals. The building is named in memory of Thomas H. Burrows, fourth president of the institution and pioneer leader in Pennsylvania school legislation.

Air travel for the month of April, 1940, was approximately 73.91 per cent higher than for the same month in 1939.

PLANS FOR FAIR AT YOUNGVILLE SHOW PROGRESS

Youngville, July 29—Plans are rapidly going ahead for the tenth annual Youngville community fair which begins on Wednesday, August 28, and continues to the last Saturday of the month. This year, for the first time, all the exhibit buildings on Island Park, will have wooden sidings. In years past there has been some trouble with petty larceny. The fair board hopes to be better prepared to protect their exhibitors from theft and from inclement weather. Workers are already busy making these improvements. The sidings will be on hinges so that picknickers in the summer may use the buildings.

As usual one of the chief attractions of the fair will be the horse show. Warren county horses will be exhibited Friday evening, the 30th, and the regular show will be put on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The fair board is to meet Tuesday evening and further plans will be made. The booklets listing the classes of exhibits and the prizes will be ready for distribution in about two weeks.

TO BEGIN WORK

Work began today on laying new sidewalks in Youngville. The walks in most of the town were torn up when the new sewer pipes were laid under them. The borough is furnishing the dirt to raise the sidewalk grade above that of the road. The W. P. A. will furnish labor. The new walks will be cement along all the main streets. This project has been badly needed for a number of years, but not until the road level was raised and the sewer system in could it be carried out. The work will begin on East Main street.

The Brokenstraw Grange is planning a picnic supper at Ed Abraham's camp on Irvine Run on Wednesday evening. Members are asked to bring a turkey and table service. The meal is to be served at six o'clock and families are invited.

R. S. Hartley celebrated his 85th birthday at his home Sunday. He received the congratulations of friends and relatives. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, with their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, held a family reunion at Brookcrest Park.

After the dinner they played games and went swimming. Among the thirty members of the family group were members present from Warren, Greenville and Youngville, Pa., Jamestown and Clymer, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson have returned from a short trip to the Grand Canyon of Pennsylvania and Letchworth Park in New York state. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wolf, of Pittsfield.

Mrs. Robert Mead is visiting the

New York world fair. Miss Nellie Knapp is visiting cousins in Rochester, N. Y. They plan a short Canadian trip.

John Bull and Elwood Oviatt have returned from a trip to Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith returned Saturday evening from a week at Ocean City.

The passenger-mileage figure is greater than the 12-month combined figure for all the rest of the airlines in the world.

AERIAL RAID
Philadelphia, July 30.—(P)—Detectives called on the fire department for help in raiding a restaurant where they said a Chinese fan tan game was in progress. Finding the entrance barred by heavy steel doors they slipped in a fire ladder and climbed in a third story window. Detectives arrested four persons but said about 36 others escaped through secret passages.

Odors are said to have weight.

FEWER BUILDING PERMITS GIVEN IN THIS STATE

It is reported that in 238 municipalities of the state, 4,279 building permits were issued during the month of June for operations valued at $8,136,000. Due to decreased values for both major types of new building, particularly residential, the total value for June was 21.8 percent below that for May and 15.6 percent below last year's level. The $2,296,000 spent on alterations, additions and repairs, however, was 4.2 percent above last month's expenditure and 17.8 percent above last year's.

During June permits were issued for 829 residential buildings valued at $4,041,000 and accommodating 896 families. The value of new commercial buildings contracted for during June in 238 cities was $1,707,000.

The report submitted to the Department of Labor and Industries shows that five building permits were issued in Warren in June. These were for improvements valued at $6,715.

One permit was for additions, alterations and repairs on a residential building valued at $2,000. The other four were for additions, alterations and repairs to non-residential buildings valued at $4,715.

In the 12 months from July, 1939, to June, 1940, 44 permits for work valued at $266,700 were issued. In the preceding 12 months, 36 permits for work valued at $168,494 were issued in Warren.

CITY LOSING ON PINBALLS
Pittsburgh, July 30.—(P)—Chief Clerk Al Tronzo of the city treasurer's office estimates half of the 1,800 pinball machines here are being operated illegally. Officials seized 40 machines, charging owners were cheating the city out of hundreds of dollars of license fees by using bogus seals and illegally transferring licenses from one machine to another.

BY JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Baseball still is a bruising battle in Brooklyn and the Dodgers have only three clubs to go to to accumulate a perfect record of at least one fist fight with every team in the National League.

The latest flare-up involved Catcher Babe Phelps of the fisticuffs Dodgers and Shortstop Arky Vaughan of the Pirates. It came in the final breathless moments of one of the whackiest ball games season spectators at Ebbets Field have ever seen. The Brooks won 7-6.

For eight innings yesterday Curt Davis held the Pirates helpless with four scattered hits and the only excitement, aside from the steady tattoo of his teammates in thumping up a six-run lead, was the banishment of Manager Frank Frisch of the Pirates for protesting a play at second base in the sixth stanza. It was the sixth time this season he had been chased.

But in the ninth the Pirates set off a dynamite display under Davis, scoring six runs before Tot Pressnell could stop them. Then when the Dodgers came to bat, Phelps was thrown out at first and Vaughan hustled over to the bag, apparently to ask Elbie Fletcher, Pirate first baseman, if Phelps had tried to spike him. Whatever the answer, Vaughan and Phelps waded into each other and were hard at it before team-mates could intervene.

Thus the Pirates lined up behind the St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds as fisticuffs of the Dodgers this season.

Mace Brown nullified the fine comeback of the Pirates by issuing two walks ahead of a single to Pete Coscarart in the last half of the ninth and was charged with the loss.

This was the first game in which the Dodgers have had a fight and a victory and it enabled them to cut another notch off Cincinnati's apparently ample lead as the Reds dropped a 4-3 decision to the New York Giants.

The Reds gave Rookie Hutchings a 3-0 lead in the first five innings, but he and three other Cincinnati pitchers couldn't hold it. Finally in the ninth Babe Young, who twice had bounced into double plays, slashed out a double score. Harry Danning from first base with the winning run.

Bob Bowman pitched seven-hit ball as the St. Louis Cards whipped the Boston Bees 8-3 and climbed back to fifth place.

A seven-hit pitching performance was turned in by Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs in beating the Phillies 7-3. Passeau gave up four of the hits in the first inning, one of them a single by Joe Mauer with the bases loaded. Marty also hit a homer in the seventh.

In the only game in the American League the Athletics again exercised their jinx over the pace-setting Detroit Tigers, getting a 9-7 verdict that shaved Detroit's lead over Cleveland to one game.

Rookie Fred Hutchinson had Philadelphia checked without run until the fifth yesterday, but then the A's broke loose for four tallies and in the seventh they clustered five more. Rudy York and Hank Greenberg accounted for five Detroit runs with two homers.

Sports Roundup

BY BILL WHITE

New York, July 30.—(P)—Pearls from the press coop: The scribes who cover the Giants say when and if Smilin' Bill Terry goes into the front office, Billy Jurges will be the new manager. . . . Willard Hershberger, the Reds' fine young catcher, would be even better if he had didn't bother him. In this recent spell, he's lost 15 pounds. . . . When Ducky Medwick batted sixth Sunday against the Cards, it was the lowest spot in the batting order he's occupied since he became a star. . . . Pitchers with winning streaks better stay away from the A's. They broke Buck Newsom's 13-game string Sunday, just like they broke Schoolboy Rowe's 16 game in 1934. . . . Why did those big league scouts go to Buffalo Sunday to watch Rookie Hal White of the Bisons pitch that three-hitter? They could have saved all that carfare by reading the rave notices in all the eastern sheets.

Today's Guest Star

Jack Miley, New York Post: "From the looks of things as Saratoga's first mutual betting race meet got underway, they're going to have to conscript boss players if they want to keep the sellers in the ticket windows from going to sleep."

Will Lawson Little accept Henry Picard's challenge for that 72-hole, winner-take-all grudge golf match? . . . Is Dodge Prexy Larry MacPhail being eyed by the radio people after broadcasting part of that Brooklyn game Sunday?

Has California come up with another tennis sensation in 17-year-old Louise Brough, who turned to the courts after a fling at baseball, speedball and football? . . . Know why UCLA booked two southwest grid teams this year? Because last year T. C. U. drew more people to Los Angeles than any other UCLA foe, save USC.

Tall Tales from the Redlands
The Cincinnati Reds are so durned good that Mike (Demon) Dejan, the Southern Association slugger, can't break into the line-up. And all he has in his favor is a .404 batting average, a mark of .449 in his first 23 games with Chattanooga and a 480-foot homerun poke!

Arlington Park betters have the esteem of all us losin' boss players. The other day an oat burner named Arcadian, the favorite, came home a jagging last—and the crowd swarmed down to the rail and gave the nag a raspberry he'll never forget! . . . Hats off to the friends of little Rockhurst College who scraped up 600,000 votes and got Don Carney onto the All-Star football squad. Quite a feat for which the Rockhurst Sentinel's sports ed, Harry Selzer, si modestly taking bows. . . . Under the new airtight accounting system at L. S. U., you can get a complete athletic department financial picture. The budget frankly shows it costs $750 a year to maintain "Mike," the school's full-grown Bengal tiger mascot!

DIZZY DEAN HURLS TWO-HIT SHUTOUT

Dallas, Tex., July 30.—(P)—Dizzy Dean pitched two-hit ball last night, his best effort since he came to the Tulsa League team, and shut out Dallas, 1 to 0. "Diz" faced only 28 men the entire game.

NATRONA RETAINS CLEAN SLATE, 3-2

Vandergrift, Pa., July 30.—(P)—Natrona eked out a 3-2 triumph over North Apollo last night to remain the only undefeated team in the state semi-pro baseball tournament. Vandergrift's Grays engage Ford City today.

The National Forge meets the Vandergrift Redbirds, defending champions, tomorrow night. Both teams have been defeated by Natrona.

FREEMAN PETERSON GETS PLACE ON STATE CIVILIAN RIFLE TEAM; ALF NELSON AND YAGGE ALTERNATES

As a result of some fine shooting on the part of Freeman O. Peterson, Warren will be represented on the Pennsylvania Civilian Rifle Team which will compete for the national championship at Fort Perry.

Peterson averaged 88.37 to get a place on the twelve-man team, just nosing out his fellow townsman, Paul W. Yagge, by twelve one-hundredths of a point. Yagge averaged 88.25 at the tryouts which were held at Indiantown Gap.

Alf Nelson, also of Warren, averaged 89.25 but has previously shot at the national matches, and only seven veterans are permitted on each team, so he was named first alternate for the former national team members. Yagge secured an alternate berth among the new members.

Four Warren marksmen were also on the Midwest team which won the state trophy in 1939 and placed second this year. Besides Peterson, Nelson and Yagge, Stewart Kuhre was on that team which lost the 1940 title by six points to the crack Frankfort Arsenal team of Philadelphia. All members were awarded trophies.

Ray Niver, of this city, was on the Northwest team in the Pennsylvania shoot.

The state team is composed of twelve men, one captain and one coach. Its personnel is as follows: old members—A. E. Bell, Hummelstown; W. Lach, Manor; P. Baumgardner, Palmyra; H. L. Lawell, E. S. Ridge, and J. B. Kelly, of Philadelphia; H. B. Lett, Reading; and Alf Nelson, Warren, alternate; new members—C. F. Carci, Beyer; V. Breneman, Hershey; E. W. Curtiss and F. C. Zell, of Philadelphia; Freeman O. Peterson, of Warren, and Paul W. Yagge, of Warren, alternate.

Walter Lach, who fired a possible off-hand, drew a big hand from the shooters, as it was the initial "possible" in that division ever scored in a state shoot. A. E. Bell, considered the greatest off-hand shot in the state, maintained a season average of 48.

H. L. Lawell's 232 won his first place in the individual match, with E. S. Ridge second with 231 and Bell third with 230½.

Following are the scores of Midwest team:

	200	300	600	1000	Total
F. O. Peterson, Warren	43	44	45	48	219
Alf Nelson, Warren	44	45	42	46	217

The apathy of the Conewago Valley mashe welders is a strange thing, especially when the ladies enter their weekly tournaments with enthusiasm and are constantly striving to improve their games. A decade ago the men faithfully turned in their cards for handicapping, jealously guarded their team positions, and turned out en masse for Thursday and Saturday tournaments as well as the mixed foursomes. There were the Bill Jones Cup, the President's Cup, handicap trophies, etc., for which to compete, and the boys really dug in for the honor of having their names inscribed thereon.

The same enthusiasm was registered when the golf team went to Titusville, Jamestown, Oil City, Erie or other clubs in the district. The man who failed to withstand the frequent challenges of those lower on the board was bitterly disappointed when he was shoved off the list of eligibles. This has also changed and but a handful of linksmen answer the call for a team match. There are a large number of golfers playing the sporty Conewago Valley course, but it is difficult to get them worked into a lather over tournaments—the annual club championship being the exception, as we stated above. A round-robin was started this season and blew up; a handicap tournament last August also was dropped for lack of interest.

One of the older members who has long been an enthusiastic golfer opined that the retirement of a great number of veterans is the principal cause of the lamentable condition, and this may well be true. Among those playing golf locally now are many who started during the eriod when older members were ceasing to be active, and they gradually filled their places without having the advantage of catching the spirit of competition except as it existed within their own cliques. Golf is great exercise and in most cases a source of mental relaxation, but, like every other game, competitive spirit is its big thrill.

We are sure that the golf committee of the club would welcome the cooperation of all golfers, from those who shoot in the 70's to those in the 100's, to bring back to Conewago Valley the tournaments and inter-club matches which not only add to the enjoyment of the game, but build up a friendly spirit between members of the local club, and develop new friendships with golfers from other communities. As hot competition between bowling teams of clubs, lodges and industries has stimulated the interest of members and employees, so would golf matches, intra and inter-club, add to the pleasure of every shotmaker, whether he plays once a week or seven times.

PHILS MAY HAVE FIRST 20-WINNER SINCE OLD PETE

Philadelphia, July 30.—(P)—Hugh Mulcahy isn't superstitious so it's not "jinxing" the tall right-hander to say that he may be the first 20-game winner the Phillies have had in 24 years.

"Big Mul" won his 11th game against Cincinnati Saturday and all hands from President Gerry Nugent and Manager Doc Prothro down agree he has an excellent chance of reaching the coveted 20-game mark.

Not since 1916 when Grover Cleveland Alexander won 33 games and Eppa Rixey 22 have the Phillies come up with a 20-game winning pitcher. The last time anyone came close was in 1934 when Curt Davis, now with Brooklyn, won 19 and lost 17.

In 1938, his best year, "Mul" won 10 games for the Phils.

Bucky Walters, who won 27 games for the championship Cincinnati Reds last year, captured 14 in his best year with the Phils in 1937.

Mulcahy, a 6 foot 2-inch New Englander from Newton, Mass., who played his first full season with the Phils in 1937, modestly credits the Phils "kid" infield of Art Mahan, Ham Schulte, Bobbie Bragan and Merrill May, with his success.

"Sure, I've got better control this year," he explains. "But I've been getting the breaks. It's great to know you have a good infield back of you. I throw a sinker ball that is hit on the ground. I have complete confidence in the infield."

ANGOTT AND ZIVIC FIGHT IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, July 30.—(P)—Promoter Arthur J. Rooney announced he had signed Sammy Angott, National Boxing Association lightweight champ, and Pittsburgh's Fritz Zivic for a 10-round non-title battle here during the week of August 25. Angott, who won his title from Davey Day last May, and Zivic agreed on 144 pounds as the weight for their fight.

Parks Second Golfer To Take Both State And District Crowns

Pittsburgh, July 30.—(P)—Former National Open Champ Sam Parks, Jr., has achieved in Pennsylvania golfdom what only one other shotmaker was able to do.

Identical rounds of 69 yesterday gave him the Western Pennsylvania Open title and made him the second man to hold both that championship and the state Open in the same year. Emil (Dutch) Loeffler of Oakmont accomplished the achievement back in 1920.

Seven birdies, five of them deuces, accounted for Parks' four under par 139 which was just four strokes better than his nearest competitor in the field of 70 pros and amateurs from the tri-state district.

Observers said the South Hills pro won by the widest margin in recent years. Toby Lyons of Cambridge, who played with Parks, declared "I never saw better golf and I've played with a lot of good golfers."

Nemo Sherba, Crafton, finished second with 142 while Barrett Melvin, young Wanango pro, and Perry Delvecchio, Greensburg, shared third and fourth prizes with 144's. Rader Jewett, Butler, and Art Clark, Uniontown, came next with 145's.

Defending Champion Ted Luthier of Churchill Valley admitted he wasn't on his game in chalking up a 152, which were too many blows to share in the $270 prize money, $125 of which went to Parks.

Ken Stear, young Punxsutawney player, topped the amateurs with 146. State Amateur King Knox Yung Jr., of the host Shannopin Club, was one under par for the first 18 but wilted under the heat in the afternoon and finished with 149.

Argentine Reserves Decision

With this encouragement in mind, Foreign Minister Mauricio Nubuco of Brazil and Miguel A. Campa of Cuba touched up farewell speeches for delivery at today's final public plenary session.

They chose as their theme mutual congratulation for bringing the Americas into these declarations.

1. That they would not tolerate the menace of a foreign foot on American soil nor of a change of flags over hemisphere colonies;

2. That they would collaborate against the dreaded "Fifth Column" even to the extent of challenging the "packing" of foreign embassies and legations and consulates with subversive elements.

3. That they would do their best to divert United States credits to develop a solution of the surplus exports problems and attempt to develop hitherto neglected Latin American products of a non-competitive nature.

Buenos Aires, July 30—(AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that Argentina's reservation about signing the Havana conventions was "entirely natural and normal."

In such cases, agreements to treaties require legislative approval.

Conscription Bill Is Favored by President

military committee.

Byrnes, an administration lieutenant, said he considered the measure too far-reaching, but emphasized that he had not discussed it with the president.

Byrnes, however, said he favored limiting registration mainly to those who might logically be called for immediate army and navy service.

As the house military committee resumed hearings on the subject, Representative May told reporters that since estimates indicated the conscription program would cost $100,000,000, he was looking for places to reduce it.

This probably could be done, he said, lowering the top age limit of the men who might be called into service.

Opponents of the measure, meanwhile, sought to displace it with legislation suggested yesterday by the president authorizing him to call out the National Guard and the Officers Reserve Corps for active training.

The president said, in a letter to the senate, that the militiamen who would be "among the first to fight in the nation's defense have a right to the best preparation that time and circumstance permit."

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), who has opposed the Burke-Wadsworth bill, said he thought that if the National Guard was called out for a year's training, "that ought to be an answer to this proposal to train everybody."

Bombing Attacks Continue

morale before the long-awaited invasion begins.

An undisclosed number of civilians, among them an infant, were killed and buildings were damaged or demolished as the Nazi airmen sprinkled their loads up and down the east coast.

While the British armistice was announcing that Germany had sunk 35,577 tons of the empire's shipping in the week ending July 21, the German high command maintained that much damage done in the Dover fight alone.

England claimed that yesterday's air attacks cost the Germans 20 planes, 17 of them in a major battle at Dover, where 80 Nazi bombers and fighters were fought off by RAF men. Loss of one British plane was acknowledged. Germany, on the other hand, claimed 15 British planes were shot down and only three German craft were lost.

The British also acknowledged that three soldiers were killed in an explosion yesterday at Gibraltar, but said the cause was not known.

The German press said the swelling storm of air attacks is only a "puny" sample of what Adolf Hitler has in store, but already has taken a tremendous toll of British shipping.

With other American nations lined up solidly for all three of the United States' economic, military and anti-fifth column proposals before the Pan-American conference in Havana, Argentina bored a loophole in the most important.

Authoritative sources reported last night at Bucharest that Rumania, willing to effect a quick compromise with her neighbors on their territorial demands, has been given just seven weeks to negotiate a settlement.

Citizen-Soldiers Perplexed by Uncertainty days or a few weeks back in "civies" before donning khaki again for a year's stretch or longer.

There has been a lot of guessing, but a definite answer can come only from President Roosevelt, who has requested authority to call out Guardsmen and reservists throughout the nation September 1; from congress, which is trying to decide whether to grant that authority; and upon top officers in the war department who will recommend which, if not all, should be called.

As citizens to whom soldiering is a fascinating sideline to a civilian occupation, many guardsmen and reserve officers have hoped for an answer soon, so that suspense might be ended and they might get their private affairs in order for the quick transition if it comes.

Pennsylvania's military authorities, their hands full with the intricate details involved in moving a small city's entire population 500 miles to the First Army maneuver area over next week-end, meanwhile can do little but mark time with the general plans they keep up-to-date for any mobilization.

PATROL YACHT SUNK

Argentine Reserves Decision

With this encouragement in mind, Foreign Minister Mauricio Nabuco of Brazil and Miguel A. Campa of Cuba touched up farewell speeches for delivery at today's final public plenary session.

They chose as their theme mutual congratulation for bringing the Americas into these declarations.

1. That they would not tolerate the menace of a foreign foot on American soil nor of a change of flags over hemisphere colonies;

2. That they would collaborate against the dreaded "Fifth Column" even to the extent of challenging the "packing" of foreign embassies and legations and consulates with subversive elements.

3. That they would do their best to divert United States credits toward a solution of the surplus export problems and attempt to develop hitherto neglected Latin American products of a non-competitive nature.

Buenos Aires, July 30.—(P)—A foreign office spokesman said today that Argentina's reservation about signing the Havana conventions was "entirely natural and normal, since, in all such cases, agreements to treaties require legislative approval."

Conscription Bill Is

military committee.

Byrnes, an administration lieutenant, said he considered the measure too far-reaching, but emphasized that he had not discussed it with the president.

Byrnes, however, said he favored limiting registration mainly to those who might logically be called for immediate army and navy service.

As the house military committee resumed hearings on the subject, Representative May told reporters that since estimates indicated the conscription program would cost $100,000,000, he was looking for places to reduce it. This probably could be done, he said, lowering the top age limit of the men who might be called into service.

Opponents of the measure, meanwhile, sought to displace it with legislation suggested yesterday by the president authorizing him to call out the National Guard and the Officers Reserve Corps for active training.

The president said, in a letter to the senate, that the militiamen who would be "among the first to fight in the nation's defense have a right to the best preparation that time and circumstance permit."

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), who has opposed the Burke-Wadsworth bill, said he thought that if the National Guard was called out for a year's training, "that ought to be an answer to this proposal to train everybody."

It is said that 50,000 airplanes a year will cost approximately three and one-half billion dollars; moreover, it will take approximately four years' time before the airplane factories can reach that production rate.

An undisclosed number of civilians, among them an infant, were killed and buildings were damaged or demolished as the Nazi airmen sprinkled their loads up and down the east coast.

While the British armistice was announcing that Germany had sunk 35,577 tons of the empire's shipping in the week ending July 21, the German high command maintained that much damage done in the Dover flight alone.

England claimed that yesterday's air attacks cost the Germans 20 planes, 17 of them in a major battle at Dover, where 80 Nazi bombers and fighters were fought off by RAF men. Loss of one British plane was acknowledged.

On the other hand, claimed 15 British planes were shot down and only three German craft were lost.

The British also acknowledged that three soldiers were killed in an explosion yesterday at Gibraltar, but said the cause was not known.

The German press said the swelling storm of air attacks is only a "puny" sample of what Adolf Hitler has in store, but already has taken a tremendous toll of British shipping.

WARREN MAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Joseph Smith 79, of Chestnut street, is in the Ridgway hospital with serious injuries received about midnight Saturday in an automobile accident on Bont Jack hill, near Ridgway in which Norman B. DeVallance 19 of Ridgway lost his life.

Reports from the Ridgway hospital this morning stated that Smith's condition is still serious although it is believed he may recover. He is suffering from internal injuries about the chest and skull.

The accident occurred when the car driven by the Warren man collided with another operated by Emory Sidelinger, of R D 1 Brockway according to reports.

Because of the seriousness of his condition state motor police were unable to question Smith concerning the accident. However, it is believed that the Warren man's car got beyond control while proceeding down the steep grade. It is said to have swerved, struck the middle of Sidelinger's machine, traveling up the hill, slid over the top of Sidelinger's car and turned over several times on the highway.

An inquest in DeVallance's death was scheduled for late yesterday.

Let Your Doctor Conquer Psoriasis

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHEWEGER of The Kullen Drug Co.

Is your complexion blotchy, red, imperfect to a degree that embarrasses you among people? You may be a victim of psoriasis, a malady which affects your pigmentation producing ugly discolorations and dark blotches on the surface of your face and body.

Such a condition is seldom corrected by over the counter preparations. The cause may be entirely unknown to yourself or to the would-be friends who advise remedies.

Medical advice is imperative. Consult a good physician. Follow his advice, take no medication unless prescribed by him and prepared for you by a capable pharmacist.

Dr. Smith, 414 1st St., of the Kullen Drug Co. is appearing in this paper each Tuesday.

Time Factor in U. S. Defense President Says

tempt to invade the capital, as the British did in the war of 1812, would "depend entirely on when it came and who it was" making the attack.

Mr. Roosevelt put in seven hours under a scorching sun yesterday looking over defense installations at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, the water route to Washington. He said similar inspections of additional navy yards, army forts and air bases might be expected.

The statement emphasized a belief of many politicians that such visits might afford opportunity during the election campaign for expression of his views on defense and related problems.

Appraising what he had seen, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters he had obtained a "good eye demonstration of what we have been doing for national defense since last summer."

In the last three years, he said facilities and activities at Langley field have quadrupled. In a year he went on, work has increased approximately 50 per cent at the navy yard navy base and the Newport News shipyard.

Describing his estimates as conservative, he added: "This is just the beginning. We are going to see a lot more before we get through."

WARREN MAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Joseph Smith, 39, of Chestnut street, is in the Ridgway hospital with serious injuries received about midnight Saturday in an automobile accident on Beech Jack hill, near Ridgway, in which Norman B. DeValance, 19, of Ridgway lost his life.

Reports from the Ridgway hospital this morning stated that Smith's condition is still serious, although it is believed he may recover. He is suffering from internal injuries about the chest and shock.

The accident occurred when the car driven by the Warren man collided with another operated by Emory Sidelinger, of R. D. 1, Brockway, according to reports. Because of the seriousness of his condition, state motor police were unable to question Smith concerning the accident. However, it is believed that the Warren man's car got beyond control while proceeding down the steep grade. It is said to have swerved, struck the middle of Sidelinger's machine, traveling up the hill, slid over the top of Sidelinger's car and turned over several times on the highway.

An inquest in DeValance's death was scheduled for late yesterday.

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of The Mullen Drug Co.

Is your complexion blotchy, scaly, imperfect to a degree that embarrasses you among people?

You may be a victim of psoriasis, a malady which affects your pigmentation, producing ugly discolorations and dark blotches on the surface of your face and body.

Medical advice is imperative. Consult a good physician, follow his advice, take no medication unless prescribed by him and prepared for you by a capable pharmacist.

Defense President Says

tempt to invade the capital, as the British did in the war of 1812, would "depend entirely on when it came and who it was" making the attack.

Mr. Roosevelt put in seven hours under a scorching sun yesterday looking over defense installations at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, the water route to Washington. He said similar inspections of additional navy yards, army forts and air bases might be expected.

The statement emphasized a belief of many politicians that such visits might afford opportunity during the election campaign for expression of his views on defense and aligned problems.

In the last three years, he said, facilities and activities at Langley Field have quadrupled. In a year, he went on, work has increased approximately 50 per cent at the navy yard, navy base and the Newport News shipyard.

RECTOR DIES

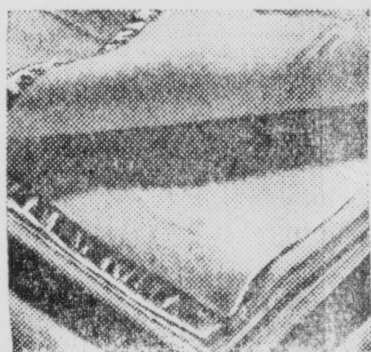

Phoenixville, July 30.—(P)—Rev. James H. Gavin, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church, collapsed in the rectory yesterday and died. He was 79.
